Huron clerk opposes new bill

Detroit could run area parks!

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

The clerk of Huron Township is making plans to fight a Senate bill that would abolish the present Huron-Clinton Metropark Authority (HCMA) in favor of a new park authority controlled by Detroit.

Clerk Mary Lou Carey explained that Senate Bill 467 would create a new 12-member park authority that would replace the present seven-member agency.

The clerk is initiating her battle by drawing up a resolution opposing the new bill which she will present to the Huron Township Board in the near future.

Currently, she said, the HCMA is composed of one member from each of the five counties in which the authority's 10 metroparks are located and two members appointed by the Governor, usually from Wayne County. The remaining four counties are: Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and Livingston.

Under Senate Bill 467 introduced May 31, 1979 by Sen. John Hertel, one member each would again be selected from the five counties, but the remaining seven members would come from Detroit, giving that city the balance of power.

"I am vehemently opposed to Senate Bill 467," Mrs. Carey explained, "because it would also abolish the present quarter-mill levy now paid by residents of the five-county area."

To replace revenues generated by the quarter-mill levy, supporters of Sen. Hertel's bill would come back for a new levy of at least that amount to maintain and operate the 10 metroparks.

"But, with the new Headlee tax amendment just passed, no new taxes will be permitted without a referendum vote of the people and they will not vote for a quarter-mill or more levy," she declared.

Thus, she said, Huron Township with its 4,000 acres of park land in the Willow, Oakwoods and Lower Huron metroparks would be left stranded without funds to maintain and operate them.

"I'm not in love with the HCMA, but I have learned to live with it," she said. With nothing to bring in additional revenues should the new Senate bill pass, Huron Township would be up the proverbial creek without a paddle.

Although she admits the HCMA and its quarter-mill levy does maintain and operate the 4,000 acres snatched from Huron Township tax rolls by the park authority, she feels as do many township residents that even that levy is unfair.

"I would estimate that 80 percent of the thousands who use our metroparks come from the Detroit area. In other words, our township residents pay taxes which maintain 4,000 acres of park land for people who do not even live here," she emphasized.

But, she said, Sen. Hertel's bill would be even worse. She contends that the goal of the proposed new legislation is to create a new park authority that would use tax dollars of residents in the five-county area to further develop Belle Isle and the Detroit River waterfront, projects that would benefit Detroit area residents and not those in outlying regions of the five counties.

Mrs. Carey said she had contacted many of the legislators whose names appeared as co-sponsoring Sen. Hertel's bill.

"Once I explained what the new bill would do, most of them indicated they would not support Sen. Hertel's bill," she said.

The clerk attended hearings June 19 in Lansing on the new bill succeeded in talking to senators on that day.

In addition to the 4,000 acres of Huron Township land taken off the tax rolls by the HCMA years ago, Mrs. Carey said Sumpter and Van Buren townships have also lost valuable land from their tax rolls, while Brownstown and Berlin township had 18,000 acres of land deleted from their tax rolls by the HCMA for use as park land in the metropark system.

Stewart to back Morgan

Former Romulus Mayor James C. Stewart has withdrawn as a candidate for the nomination for mayor in the Sept. 10 primary election.

Mel Morgan, who last week himself announced he is in the running for the mayoral office, said Stewart made the announcement at his (Morgan's) political rally last week.

Morgan said Stewart had pledged him his support and had filed only to make certain that Mayor William M. Oakley would not run without formidable opposition.

Stewart had filed two weeks ago for the office of mayor along with Oakley, Ed Rush, Ed Fall and Robert Plank. Morgan filed the following week.

At Morgan's rally, Stewart made a 15-minute talk to the 86 persons who attended in which he promised to give his full support to the Romulus developer and businessman.

Merchants to share cost

Plan okayed to redo city

A plan to revitalize and develop the downtown area of Romulus was assured last week when the Romulus City Council approved financial co-sponsorship of a community development plan with the Romulus Central Business District Association.

Council action authorizes the city to spend $17,500 of its community development block grant funds to supplement $12,000 committed by the businessmen's association for preparation of the plan by Christopher Wzaczny and Associates of Birmingham and Detroit.

Specifically, the approval by council empowers the mayor to enter into a contract with the planning firm for preparation of a community development plan costing $29,500 which would include downtown development and overall economic strategy plans.

Action by council came in answer to a written recommendation from Pat Hogan, community development director, to council at its session last week.

Hogan's memorandum stated the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) has expressed concern over relationship of the downtown area to the proposed new senior citizens high-rise building southeast of the downtown business section of the city. (MSHDA must approve many aspects related to the high-rise and its funding.)

Paving the way for the downtown development study was a meeting of Bill Simonds, president of the local businessmen's group, with Phil McKenna and Chris Wzaczny of the professional planning firm, to discuss outline of the project.

As explained by McKenna to Hogan in written communication earlier in the month, in addition to the downtown plan, the community development plan will enable the city to seek additional funding, aid the city in making decisions on proposed private projects, set priorities for tax abatement, help in attracting development, and generate confidence in a specific strategy for Romulus in the near future.

McKenna said his firm would work closely with Hogan, the city administration, city council, Economic Development Corporation, and the downtown merchants in the plan's preparation.

He said that multi-year financial commitment by Romulus under a new community development plan would enable it to skip annual application for smaller and limited funding from the urban county community development program and seek up to $1.8 million over a three-year period from the small cities comprehensive program, a HUD discretionary program.

"This funding enables cities of under 50,000 population to undertake long-term significant projects in housing, public facilities and economic development on a scale which is impossible under the urban county's program where funds are limited and also where the commitment is for one year only," McKenna explained.

His letter said components of the community development plan would include "strategies for neighborhoods, economic development and the Romulus central business district".

Although Romulus does not have control over such things as the nation's economy, regional markets, interest rates, and federal and state tax policies, it can take advantage of "useful tools to attract industrial and commercial developments" as permitted under existing state laws, he pointed out.

"Yet, this does not mean that a city should make concessions to every hamburger stand that comes along. Rather, the city should evaluate each proposal in terms of the city's municipal bonding capacity, overall growth objectives, tax base, employment, other city plans for redevelopment, utilities and the environment," McKenna emphasized.

He cautioned, however, that even with a community development plan, the administration and city

Ski group to star in July 4th show

The "Jumping Jacks" again will thrill spectators at the annual Fourth of July ski and water show at Belleville Lake July 4. Terry Duane and brothers Kevin and Jim Guenther (shown in photo) will be among members of the Belleville Lake Water Ski Club who will perform ski jumps, high jumps and kite skiing for the show which will begin at 7:30 p.m. At 9:30 p.m., the annual fireworks show will hold the attention of spectators for an hour on shores of Horizon Park along High Street. In view of the 14,000 persons who attended last year's ski and fireworks shows, Pete Doyle, chairman of the committee for the local July 4th celebration, advised area residents to get there early for a good seat. Sponsored by the Belleville-Van Buren Chamber of Commerce and assisted by the Belleville Jaycees, who shoot off the fireworks display, the annual program has proved to be popular with local citizens. As in past years, cost of the fireworks will be paid by receipts from the 50-50 raffle — half going to pay for fireworks and half to be given away in a raffle drawing. Last year, five persons each received $200 each in the raffle drawing. Again this year, five first place awards will be given away, Doyle said. He asked that area businessmen wishing to make contributions should send them to the Belleville-Van Buren Chamber of Commerce at 116 Fourth St., Belleville 48111.

Joyner battles the 'scratch my back' game

By CARRIE YOUNG
ANP Staff Writer

On a Monday morning William Joyner was told to jam his suggestions on improving county services where the sun never shines.

On a Wednesday he received a volley of obscenities from two department heads and a Detroit-based county commissioner.

It was on a Friday afternoon that Joyner, Western Wayne County's 27th District commissioner refused to play "I'll scratch your back" games.

Thus, his negative vote on a UAW-related issue found him with a handful of rejections to his political fund raiser. Those rejections had been confirmed acceptances.

And on a Sunday evening Joyner and his wife Paula were snubbed at a cocktail-dinner party.

"Because I am a politician, the hostess said she shouldn't have invited us and that she never would again," Joyner said, shrugging.

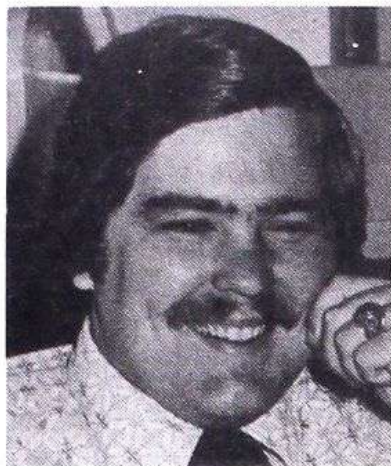

So goes the life of a politician.

It was a year ago this month that the 29-year-old Plymouth Democrat filed his candidacy for the part-time paid county commissioner's seat.

But unlike most, Joyner pretty much knew what was in store for him after already experiencing six months holding public office.

As the appointed replacement to former county commissioner Royce Smith, Joyner already touched bases with his constituents in Canton Township, Wayne, Westland, Belleville, Van Buren Township, Sumpter Township, Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Initially, he bounded exuberantly

'...I get nervous worrying about all the work...'

to sometimes three or four meetings a night, usually each located in a different community.

He vowed to stay clear of the inner political fighting that perpetuates itself downtown in the City-County Building. Instead he found himself, at times, caught up in some of the infighting of more than 150 local public officials, serving the public in the western suburbs.

"I thought if I spent all my time out in my areas that I would avoid the politics downtown and could be able to better serve people. They'd know who I am, and who to go to for help," Joyner reasoned.

Joyner had his role worked out, but other political characters weren't willing to stick to the script.

As much as he would like not to admit, Joyner has quite often found himself smack dab in the middle of heavy, and bitter, political infighting, usually occurring on the seventh floor of the City-County Building.

It's been Joyner versus Detroit commissioners on such issues as senior citizen programs and county executive leadership.

When it's not money, it's political powerholds at issue, many a time the two are so intertwined it's difficult to segregate, even for a self-described 18-month veteran politician.

He laughs: "It's still all so new to me. I must say it's taken me a year to understand the infra-structure and each community's different needs."

So new to politics is Joyner that he still has not learned many of the dance steps to county politics and quite often is seen stepping on fellow commissioner's toes. County commissioners, some who've become institutions in the county government structure, bruise easily, forgiving rarely.

Joyner also shows no mercy on questionable activities, or inac-tivities, of department heads.

For instance, Joyner openly discusses his doubts about whether the county drain commissioner, Charles Youngblood, is "giving it his all." He informally has mentioned and advocated the resolution to abolish the position, questioning the need for such a position in the first place.

When asked what the drain commissioner does, Joyner's reply was "I do not know. I mean I know the job description, but I don't know what 'he' does all day."

Another department head dented by Joyner's hard hitting, and very often right on target, interrogations, was Dante Divitto, director of the county's Office on Aging.

After finding numerous pitfalls to the various county services offered to the aged, Divitto became defensive of his programs and of-fended by Joyner's intimations of mismanagement.

That's when Joyner learned about power play politics.

Divitto doubled up with Detroit — based county commissioners, quite capable of making a young, upstart westerner feel very much unwelcome.

Joyner took solace in re-initiating his one-on-one contacts with his more than 150,000 constituents. Retreat?

Maybe. But in his retreat to the suburbs, Joyner took with him scores of petitions for his petition drive urging for the creation of a county executive position. His hope being that with a county executive, there will be single direction in leadership given to county politics, policy making and future goals.

"But that, of course as you know, is something Detroit commissioners don't want. They fear it, because they believe they'll lose their control," Joyner said.

At least in the suburbs his reformist-like activities are not directly underneath the noses of his associates, he noted.

One would logically think that being an ombudsman, all encompassing, politician to constituents complaining of potholes, bad drainage, and water pressure problems, he would shed pound after pound.

"Nope, I get nervous worrying about all the work that has to be done. And when you're all alone, without even a secretary to type up a letter, it can make a person nervous," Joyner said, munching on a good-sized piece of birthday cake. His bankroll, however, hasn't fattened.

The county allocates each commissioner $100 monthly for expenses, however, with the largest district in the county to oversee, Joyner said he spends more than $150 monthly solely on gasoline expenses.

165 Pay tribute to 'Mr. ANP'

'Lothar' is lauded, roasted at dinner

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

An overflow crowd of 165 persons jammed Leright's banquet room in Westland Wednesday night as accolade upon accolade was heaped on Lothar Konietzko during a dinner program honoring him for 25 years of service as chief photographer for Associated Newspapers.

Sponsored by a group of friends, politicians and members of the business community in ANP's circulation area and throughout the state, the dinner program extended well past the announced 10:30 p.m. closing time, lasting almost until midnight.

Joe Benyo, master of ceremonies and vice president of the Michigan Press Photographers Association, kept the audience in stitches with his witty remarks relating to Lothar's life since his coming to the Wayne area from Germany in 1954.

Tribute to the winner of national, state and local photographic awards came from no less than Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Vince Finigan, member of the White House News Photographers Association.

Lothar, who recovered from a near-fatal automobile accident of a year and a half ago, has over the quarter century endeared himself to all segments of the six communities in which ANP circulates, from school children to senior citizens.

During his stay in Annapolis Hospital, Lothar was deluged with get-well cards and letters from many of the pupils he photographed in the course of his news photo assignments. His ability to joke and laugh with youngsters, thereby putting them at ease, made taking pictures an enjoyable occasion for them.

Adults were no exception; they, too, fell under his spell and looked forward to his next visit. Lothar made it a special point to give a little extra attention to residents in their golden years, and he became a special favorite with them.

Senior citizen clubs throughout ANP's circulation area welcomed his frequent visits to their club headquarters for a bit of lunch at noon. His visits always ended up with a few extra copies of their area's ANP newspaper somehow being left conveniently for their reading pleasure.

Lothar's dedication to getting the best shot possible, of climbing or running to the most strategic location, and going out with or without an assignment under adverse weather conditions, became well-known, both to staff members and the populace at large.

Following his recent return to work on a part-time basis, a group of his friends decided, as master of ceremonies Benyo remarked, to honor Lothar while he was alive, not after he had gone to the great beyond. Thus, the dinner came about and its success speaks for the efforts of its sponsors.

As the evening wore on, and speaker after speaker added his or her remembrances of their associations with Lothar, the format of the program took on that of a "roast".

Lothar, whose humor and wit away from the office is his trademark, took it all in stride. Repeated efforts by Lothar to break into comments and remarks made by speakers were stymied by Benyo, who quipped, "Keep quiet, turkey!"

At the conclusion of speeches, Lothar addressed the enthusiastic audience of well-wishers, which included local politicians, fellow workers, friends and acquaintances, and his boss, Dennis G. Fassett, ANP managing editor.

During his talk in which he repeatedly thanked everyone at the dinner for their kindness and consideration, Lothar related his trials and tribulations in first embarking upon his career as a photographer with ANP.

He told how through the efforts of a close friend he was hired by Wes Willett, then owner of Associated Newspaper and father of David J. Willett, current owner and publisher, when he didn't know a camera from a bowling ball.

Explaining that his lack of experience was compounded by his inability to speak English, Lothar told how he laboriously translated instructions on how to take and develop pictures with the aid of a dictionary.

The audience broke into uproarious laughter when Lothar, in explaining to his benefactor that he could not do the job and was going to quit, said he was told, "in America you don't quit; you wait until they fire you!"

Sen. William Faust of Westland, Senate majority leader, was unable to attend the dinner honoring Lothar because of a last-minute surprise party thrown in his behalf in Lansing. However, a telephone call from Lansing half-way through the program announced that Faust and his party has toasted Lothar in lieu of their not being able to come in person.

In his remarks concluding the dinner program, Lothar thanked residents of the Wayne and surrounding communities "for opening up their hearts to me". Although during the course of his stay in Wayne, he had been offered job opportunities elsewhere, he said he always declined because he loved the area and its inhabitants and would forever be grateful for their help in his time of trial.

Mitch Kehetian, managing editor of the Macomb Daily and former managing editor of Associated Newspaper, related the dedication and loyalty to the newspaper chain shown by Lothar when he (Kehetian) was its editorial head.

D.G. Fassett, current managing editor, roasted and toasted the chief photographer. He cited the "silent suffering" and "misery" of working with Lothar, but concluded "that to know Lothar is to love him". He agreed with sentiments expressed by many over the years when he declared, "Lothar is Mr. Associated Newspapers!"

Other tributes included: Rep. Tom Brown, who presented Lothar with resolutions from the Michigan Senate and House honoring his 25 years of service; a telegram from Cong. William D. Ford; letter from Detroit Diesel Allison; speech by Ed Haun, Detroit Free Press photographer; resolution of tribute from Wayne City Council; resolution of tribute from Michigan Press Photographers Association; speech and resolution of tribute presented by Gail McKnight, president pro tem of the Westland City Council; plaque from Wayne-Westland Art Association; plaque from Inkster Rotary Club; speech and resolution of tribute from Tom Taylor, mayor of Westland; letter of commendation from Tom Riordan, executive editor of Observer-Eccentric Newspapers; letter of commendation from Charles Cooper, executive secretary of the National Press Photographers Association.

Unique among the awards to Lothar was five pounds of homemade Polish kielbasa from the Inkster Fire Department.

Many of Lothar's prize-winning black and white and color photographs were on display at Leright's, along with many certificates of his accomplishments in the field of news photography.

Since 1954, Lothar has photographed every President of the United States, as well as many of its top Congressional leaders.

Those in attendance at Leright's included Willett and his wife, Donna; a host of senior citizens; members of civic, fraternal and service organizations; city officials and employees from ANP's circulation area of Canton, Westland, Wayne, Inkster, Romulus and Belleville; and members of the general public.

In brief

Two win scholarships

Two seniors at Romulus High School were awarded scholarships valued at $750 each by the Romulus Education Association.

Regina Gladness will attend the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor this fall to study pre-law, while Gloria Smith will attend Eastern Michigan University at Ypsilanti to enter the nursing program.

"We can only hope that our scholarships can be a small contribution to the success of these two fine recipients", said Fred Coleman of the association.

The scholarships were presented recently by Chris Powers, association president.

98 Permits issued

A total of 98 permits were issued in May by the Romulus Building Department for construction amounting to $2,942,452, according to George R. Bingham, city engineer.

A breakdown of permits showed: 18 — single-family residences; three — demolished buildings; 13 — garages and carports; six — commercial buildings; three — signs; four — fences.

Two similar industrial buildings costing $398,920 each will be built by the Highland Industrial Development Co. of Southfield on Highland Road between Wick and Hildebrandt roads.

A sum of $1,118,000 will be spent by the Wayne County Road Commission for the expansion of gates and terminal at Detroit Metro Airport's L.C. Smith Terminal.

From 3 foreign lands

Families sought to house students

Families in the Van Buren school district are being asked to provide homes for three exchange students from foreign countries who will be attending Belleville High School or a private high school during the coming school year.

According to Deborah Elmore, who works with Youth for Understanding, the participation of exchange students at BHS has been approved by school officials.

"We have a 16-year-old boy from the Philippines, an 18-year-old from Ecuador, and a 17-year-old girl from Finland coming to start school here soon," she explained.

Mrs. Elmore said local families would be asked to provide only a bed and meals, as the exchange students will pay their own travel expenses and be furnished an allowance by their own families back home.

Expected in the local area in August, the three students are part of the 4,000 who will come to the United States from 26 nations as part of the international student exchange program sponsored by Youth for Understanding.

The program began in Ann Arbor in 1951 and has expanded by leaps and bounds since that time, she said.

"It is a chance to share culture, friendship, and many new experiences," Mrs. Elmore emphasized.

She said that families desiring to share their home with exchange students are asked to call her at 697-8231.

Council approves revitalization plan

council would still have to make "tough decisions".

He added that the community development plan will also include a "multi-purpose approach to development with the council making final decisions on priorities".

McKenna stressed that the community development plan is not another master plan, explaining that the latter is "an overall guide for zoning".

"The master plan says 'where', not 'how'", he said.

He said since the new plan would include a three-year budget, it had to identify specific projects and detailed cost estimates and would provide specific ways to meet those costs through private, state, federal or various combinations of funding.

His letter to Hogan concluded by stating that cities which "have begun to turn around developed a community development strategy several years ago".

"They did not rely on a single federal program, but made an assault on their problems and potentials through combinations of strategies for their neighborhoods, their downtowns, and their business and employment bases. This is the purpose of a community development plan," he explained.

McKenna said Michigan communities which have followed the course of a community development plan "are beginning to see results" because they acted when development proposals came along and knew how to respond when a new funding program became effective.

"Their priorities were set and they were ready," he added.

Dr. Grillo ends practice after 36 years in Belleville

Dr. S. Phillip Grillo, general practitioner in the city of Belleville and surrounding area for the last 36 years, has announced his retirement.

He first began his practice in the city back in April of 1943 when he was allocated to this area from St. Mary's Hospital in Detroit by the federal government during World War II. He remained after the conclusion of the war to continue the practice of medicine, his last 31 years in offices at 265 Main St.

Dr. Grillo was engaged in his surgical residency at St. Mary's when the war interrupted his studies. A widower since 1960, he reared three children, all of whom now are living away from home.

A daughter, Mrs. Mary Katherine

Carey, resides in Manchester, while a second daughter, Mrs. Diana Louise Bazell, lives in Ypsilanti. His son, Phillip Edward Grillo, is in the process of moving from Battle Creek, Mich. to Indianapolis, Ind. He graduated from Michigan State University last year.

Dr. Grillo said he intends to keep his hand in medicine and may fill in for area doctors during vacations and in times of emergency.

His retirement plans will include a trip to Europe and travels in the area and United States. He said he will continue participation in golf, fishing, swimming, boating, and other sporting activities.

Dr. Grillo is a member of the board of trustees of the Michigan Heart Association and several of its committees. He also is a member of St. Anthony's Church council.

He belongs to the national, state and county academies of family physicians and has accumulated more than 5,000 hours of post-graduate work in the medical field.

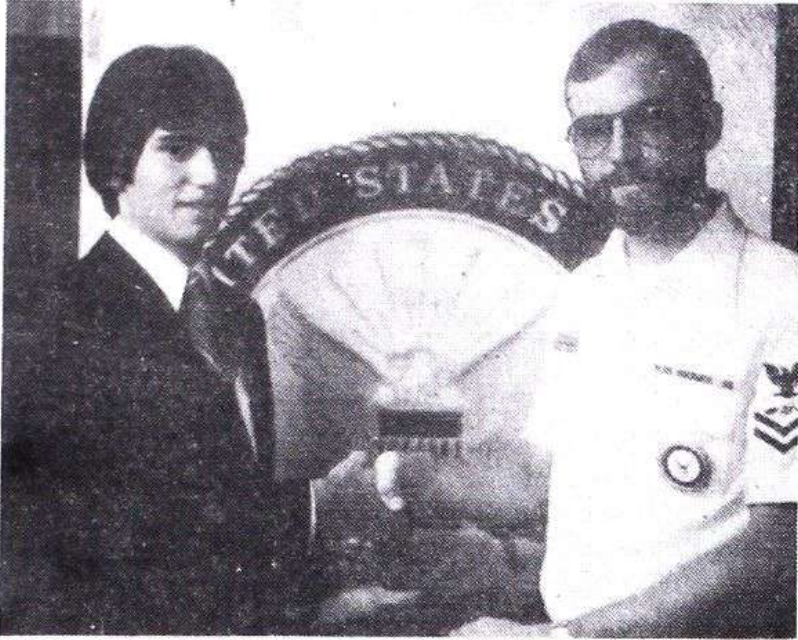

Dr. Grillo is a past member of the American Medical Association and a current member of the Michigan State Medical Society and the Washtenaw Medical Society.

Dr. Grillo was born in Gary, Ind. and attended and graduated from Indiana University. He came to Detroit in 1940 to begin his surgical residency at St. Mary's.

During his practice here, Dr. Grillo was on the staff of Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti, and Annapolis Hospital, Wayne.

Kurzthals collects degree

New Boston resident Dennis Kurzthals recently received his college degree during commencement ceremonies at Kalamazoo College in Kalamazoo.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F.P. Kurzthals of Inkster Road, New Boston.

Also on the college scene: Several Belleville-Romulus residents were among degree candidates at Michigan State University this spring.

Completing their requirements for degrees were Belleville residents Charles Dougherty of South Biggs Street, bachelor of science with high honors in psychology; John Dougherty of South Biggs Street, bachelor of science with high honors in computer science; Timarie Ellis of East Huron River Drive, bachelor of arts with honors in communications; and Claire Volk of Denton Road, bachelor of arts with honors in business education.

The New Boston degree candidates were Gregory Cady of Willow Road, bachelor of science in medical technology; and David Horvaith of Hannan Road, bachelor of science in fisheries and wildlife; while the Romulus degree candidate was David Renke of Wabash Street, bachelor of science in microbiology.

The degrees were conferred during the June 9 spring commencement in Spartan Stadium in East Lansing.

Two Belleville-Romulus residents collected their degrees during the 20th annual commencement at the Northwood Institute in Midland.

Diplomas went to Michael Kosin of Belleville, bachelor of business administration; and Robert Gierak, associate of applied science with honors.

Lisa Archer and Karen Greathouse, both of Belleville, were among 300 members of the Class of '79 to participate in commencement ceremonies at Kalamazoo College June 9.

Miss Archer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Archer of Harmony Lane, while Miss Greathouse is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane P. Greathouse of Harmony Lane.

Miss Greathouse majored in economics and German at the college and plans to enter graduate school to study labor economics.

Her senior individualized project was a research paper on collective bargaining in the auto industry. She attended the University of Bonn, West Germany, during her foreign study quarters, and for her career development quarter, she worked in the legal department of the UAW International in Detroit.

Miss Greathouse graduated Phi Beta Kappa with honors in the economics department and was a senior fellow in the economics department this year.

Romulus residents Richard J. Vinnay and Ricky W. Ward were members of the largest graduating class of Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Vinnay collected his mechanical engineering degree, while Ward was awarded a mechanical technology degree cum laude.

What's Happening Around The Tree?

Water skiing thrills

Water skiers thrill Lemontree residents with their daring stunts performed each summer.

Lemontree in the summer creates all kinds of activity

By KIM KNIIVICA

Lemontree is famous for all of the activities and events that go on throughout the year; but summertime is when the complex is really alive. People stop hibernating and come outdoors and enjoy life at Lemontree.

The clubhouse and pool area are the centers of all of the activities. The children frolic in the water, jumping off the diving board and playing tag with their friends. Swimming lessons are taught by the pool staff from toddlers on up. Splash parties are popular with the Lemon Littles, as they are called around the complex.

The adults take life a little less strenuously around the pool. Backgammon is an enjoyable way for Lemontree residents to pass the afternoon as they work on getting a golden tan. Spirited volleyball matches have become weekend traditions at poolside; each week the games get better and better.

The pool isn't the only area that has a lot of summertime traffic. The golf course is enjoying a good season. The lake hums with activity, as the boats race up and down the shoreline. Weekend sailers have been seen venturing out onto the water to practice up on their skills. Skiers are spotted as they dare to attempt difficult stunts, and many are seen in the water. Life on the lake is busy in the summer.

Organized sports are very popular at Lemontree. Men's and women's softball teams have been in competition since late May with other neighboring apartment complexes. Both teams are doing very well. The women's team is in first place with no defeats and the men's team is in second place by a narrow margin with only two losses. A Volleyball league has been organized with almost 100 residents participating. Lemontree is trying very hard to get its residents involved in activities.

The complex is also in preparation for the fourth annual Lemontree Birthday Celebration. On Saturday, June 30, the complex will spend an entire day in a festive mood. There will be something happening for everyone. The children can enter the bicycle decorating contest and enjoy poolside games. For the adults there is a patio and balcony decorating contest and a photography contest. A big beer bash has been planned for over 21 residents to top off the fun day.

The famous waterski show will be back again, it is one of the most popular events of the summer. There will be a tennis exhibition, a Gong Show and a delicious picnic dinner. The entire complex is invited and everyone is looking forward to a fun-filled day.

June 30 is an extra special summer day for the residents of Lemontree. Yet all through the summer there will be special events happening. There will be pool parties, sports events, fun days for the children, special trips and many more activities planned. Sports and sun, poolside or lakeside, Lemontree comes alive in the summertime.

Paddles swings to new beat

By LAURA DORRA

Live bands are back at Paddles! BACKSTAGE, a Mel Ball Productions band, with a large local following, is now playing every Tuesday through Saturday. Dancers and watchers in their 20's through 40's are on hand for the excitement happening within a $50,000 glass box which represents the dance floor. You truly feel the beat as you dance inside the glass walls transparent on the top and on three sides. On weekends capacity crowds of 500 come in to shake and strut from places as far away as Toledo and Windsor, Ontario.

Wednesday, June 6th marked the day Paddles really came alive with Tony Gamarco broadcasting for WDRQ. There was a full house by 10:00 and they stayed on and danced until 1:00. Tony's disco beat invited the people to drop in for a drink and some dancing, many did just that. Every night brings in a varied group of customers. Wednesday and Friday many singles frequent the club. Saturday couples including sport celebrities from the Tigers and Lions who make their home at Lemontree adjacent to Paddles enjoy stopping by. Entertainers playing local night spots have been known to drop in after their own show to relax at the bar which is surrounded by tiers of tables and banquettes rising to a vaulted ceiling with exposed beams.

Have you ever heard of Crazy George? On June 6th the guests at Paddles were thrilled by his performance. George Schauer, 26, is a ball handling wizard who has appeared in 43 states and 13 countries in the past four years. His antics are legends, but he has to be seen to be believed. And he has been. By hundreds and thousands of people in person and by millions on CBS-TV in half-time shows.

Televisions "Dance Fever" has chosen Peppers disco in Waterford to have dance auditions for couples who may win over $25,000 in prizes plus an all expense paid trip to Hollywood! If you are interested dance your best routines at Paddles where you are eligible to be chosen by the management to go to the semi-finals on June 28 at Peppers. Couples will be judged by Paul Gilbert, the talent coordinator for Merv Griffin productions. The final auditions are on June 29 and the winners will be off to Hollywood, California!

County's 'ugly duckling' blossoms into Dental Health Care Center

Wayne County's "ugly duckling" Dental Clinic, serving children from eight public school districts and area Head Start programs, has become a swan.

The transformation is so outstanding that the new "Dental Health Care Center" concept is winner of an achievement award given by the National Association of Counties each year for exceptional county programs.

In addition to expanding and modernizing the facilities which are part of the Wayne County Health Department, located at the Eloise complex in Westland, the Dental Center has changed its image from an old-fashioned, over-crowded clinic to a more nearly private dental practice.

"Even more important than the streamlined services is the change of attitude that has taken place," said Wayne County Commissioner Thomas Presnell, chairman of the Wayne County Health Department. "Patients are treated with more dignity and respect. Appointments are honored, and there is less waiting."

As a result, the new Dental Center is serving twice as many children as before and has dropped its daily average number of "no shows" from 17 to three.

Nurses from school groups and Head Start programs have reported that children no longer fear dental visits.

Shirley Ward, health services specialist, Out-Wayne County Head Start, called the program "a welcome change from a few years back."

Two more dentists, dental assistants and a secretary have been added to the staff, all oriented toward optimum and dignified dental care.

Renovations, including redesign of existing facilities to improve traffic patterns, bright new furnishings, modern equipment, and a computerized billing system, were financed through a National Health Services Corps grant in conjunction with MIC-PRESCAD.

The Dental Center has four chairs now instead of two and can service an average of 110 children a week up to the age of 17. These children can be referred by any Head Start program in the area, or they can come from any of eight different school districts which have contracts with the Dental Center. These include Dearborn Seven School Program, Hayti Romulus, Romulus Kiwanis, Inkster, Redford Title I and PTO, South Redford and Taylor.

Can you survive?

(This is the 12th in a series of 12-articles, entitled Can You Survive, containing survival tips from the U.S. Air Force Survival School at Fairchild Air Force Base, Wash.)

Dehydration is the excessive loss of water from the body. This phenomena is easily recognized in hot environments, but it is not as widely acknowledged in cold weather areas. Yet, dehydration is a very real problem for the outdoorsman. If faced with problems of dehydration in an extended outdoor situation in high mountain, snow-covered terrain, with no available running or standing surface water, WOULD YOU...

A. Eat snow and allow normal body processes to melt and utilize the moisture gained.

B. Melt only snow since it is the most plentiful source.

C. Melt ice because it provides more water for the volume with less heat and time than snow.

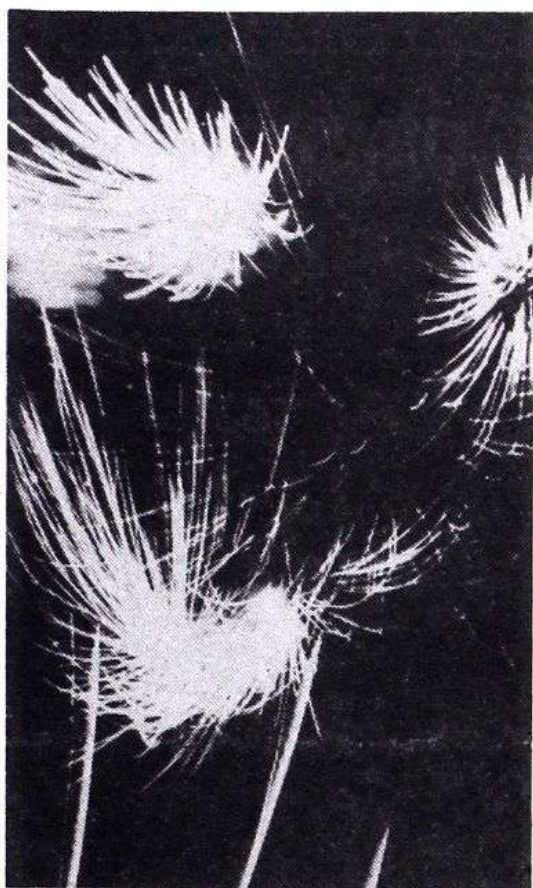

D. Utilize any dark exposed surface that will absorb the sun's heat and melt snow.

T& SURVIVE

Whenever possible, alternative (C) is the best solution for gaining a ready supply of water. Ice does provide more water for the volume with less heat and time than snow. (B) would be the next best alternative and may be the only source, if ice is not readily available. However, if a choice is possible, always melt ice before snow.

(D) is an acceptable form of melting snow provided the dark surfaces are available, the temperatures are complimentary, and an urgent need for water does not exist. If fuel is available, melting of ice or snow is best.

(A) is the least desirable alternative. Ingesting of snow or ice in the outdoors only tends to worsen an already dehydrated condition. Eating snow will only increase the thirst sensation and sap needed body heat in the melting process. Always melt your ice or snow over an external heat source before consuming (A service of your local Air Force recruiter.)

REASONS FOR PRE-PLANNING

We are frequently asked why one should consider pre-planning one's own funeral now. There are several basic reasons:

First, economy.
 You save money by stipulating only as much as you wish to spend.

Second, inner security.
 You have taken a weight off your mind, knowing that your personal arrangements are complete. And the cost won't become a burden on your family.

Third, personal choice.
 You can choose your own service - your own minister, music, extent and kind of service, right down to the smallest detail.

And fourth, simply so that your family won't have to.
 We can help you, as we've helped so many others in the community, in making pre-arrangements.

You may wish to call for an appointment to discuss pre-arranged funeral services with me or one of our directors. There is no obligation of course.

MUSICAL NOTES

by Doug Brown

There is some controversy today about the use of old instruments and old techniques when recording music written some years ago. The controversy has to do with hearing the music as the composer meant it to be heard. If he wrote a piece when instruments were at a certain level of sophistication, or when they were made of a given material, then modern recordings it is felt by some, should duplicate these instruments as much as possible. In the meantime, there are groups that specialize in having their reproductions as original as possible, while others try to refine them using the newest and best equipment that can be found.

DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 is very proud to carry a complete line of pianos and organs suitable for everyone from the most sophisticated musician to the beginning student. We invite you to come by at your convenience and to browse around our showroom. We'll be happy to answer any questions you have. Master Charge and Visa honored.

BRONCHITIS & CHIROPRACTIC

WHAT IS BRONCHITIS?

Bronchitis is an inflammation of the bronchial tubes leading to the lungs. Sometimes incorrectly described as "chest cold," bronchitis should not be regarded lightly.

BRONCHITIS AND THE NERVOUS SYSTEM

Bronchitis is a manifestation of an abnormal condition in the body. Sometimes inhaled chemical irritants, excessive smoking, too much alcohol or exhaustion can cause bronchitis symptoms; psychological factors also may aggravate the condition. However it occurs, the body tries to eject an overload of poisons through the mucous membranes which line the internal surfaces of the bronchial tubes.

Doctors of chiropractic have found that when a bronchial condition occurs, the nervous system generally is affected by interference in the transmission of vital nerve impulses from the brain to the bronchial area. Until this interference is removed, there is little chance for the body to restore itself.

Bronchitis usually is accompanied by aching limbs, rising temperature, general malaise and a feeling of tightness in the chest.

Acute bronchitis is the result of an infection. The chest becomes painful and sore. Fever, coughing and expectoration often add to the discomfort. About 6,000,000 Americans per year suffer from acute bronchitis, yet bronchitis and acute bronchitis can be corrected by chiropractic care.

THE SUBLUXATION

The brain is the headquarters of the nervous system. Vital nerve energy is transmitted from the brain to the various parts of the body by means of the spinal cord and the spinal nerve trunks, emanating from the spinal column.

Interference in this energy flow results in a "subluxation," a misalignment of one or more of the spinal vertebrae. This might be due to an accident, muscular tension, even a slight bump or jar which you may not have noticed. This distortion in the impulses being transmitted eventually causes malfunction.

HOW CHIROPRACTIC CAN HELP

Locating the offending subluxation is the specialized skill of the doctor of chiropractic. The chiropractor is trained to determine which segments of the spine have become misaligned.

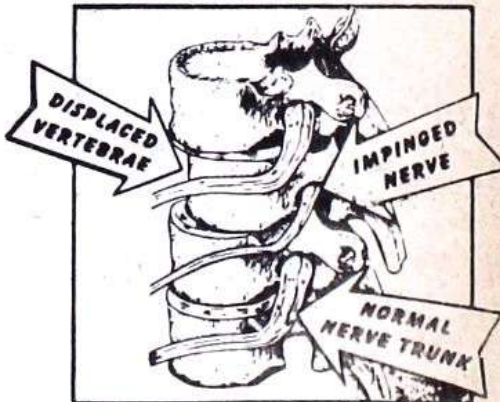

Determining the affected area by examination and spinal analysis, the chiropractor then eliminates the impingement through chiropractic adjustment if indicated.

Once the nervous system is functioning normally, the body is able to restore itself to peak efficiency by its own healing process.

CHIROPRACTIC AND GOOD HEALTH

Don't wait for bronchial symptoms to occur — visit your chiropractor regularly and maintain your good health. Periodic chiropractic care will keep you feeling fit!

Holiday travel to drop

Michigan tourism operators are hoping the 30-hour Fourth of July holiday will bring a sharp reversal in the approximate 9 percent drop in vacation activity so far this year, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"One optimistic tourism note comes from the Michigan Travel Bureau which has received a record number of travel inquiries for Michigan vacations so far this year," said Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke. "However, Auto Club routings to state destinations are down 14 percent for the first five months of this year compared with 1978."

The Michigan Department of Transportation forecasts nearly a 1 percent decrease in the number of miles traveled this July 4th as compared with 1973, which was the last time Michigan had a 30-hour summer holiday. Motorists should drive 280 million miles between 6 p.m. July 3 and midnight July 4.

"Transportation Department officials are basing that projected decrease on motorists' concern over the gasoline situation," Ratke said. Headed that initial Auto Club "fuel gauge" surveys show gasoline should be adequate for the holiday.

Poor weather and unfounded fears over gasoline availability have caused the drop in vacation activity in much of Michigan during the first five months of 1979. Hardest hit have been businesses dependent on tourism north of a line from Petoskey to Bay City.

South of that line, many businesses are benefiting from an increase in near-home travel, with southeast Michigan tourism up 2 percent through May as compared with the first five months of last year.

Attractions near major southern Michigan cities reporting larger business volumes than last year include Dearborn's Greenfield Village, the Detroit Zoo and the Kalamazoo Nature Center.

Tourism is down about 5 percent in west Michigan, 10 to 15 percent in east Michigan and about 20 percent below 1978 in the Upper Peninsula.

"Some tourism operators believe that bad weather and not gasoline fears may be the major reason tourism has declined over last year's record pace," he explained.

Crossings at the Mackinac Bridge were down some 18 percent for the Memorial Day weekend and are running 3 percent below the year's total as compared with the first five months of 1978.

Motels and resorts in most of Michigan report accommodations still are available for the July 4 holiday, with only Charlevoix and Gaylord receiving heavy advance pressure.

Fifty of the 68 state parks checked by Auto Club expect to be filled this holiday, with heaviest pressure in southeast Michigan where all 15 state campgrounds should fill. Best chances of finding a vacant campsite are at private parks or in the Upper Peninsula where only eight of 19 state campgrounds expect to fill. Thirteen persons died in Michigan during the last 30-hour July 4 holiday. All but one of the fatalities occurred on two-lane roads and alcohol was a factor in 50 percent of the deaths. Last July 4, 23 persons died during a 102-hour holiday.

State Police Operation CARE (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) will be in full swing during the July 4 holiday with 400 additional troopers emphasizing the 55 miles per hour speed limit and enforcing drinking and driving laws.

Auto Club's "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" Holiday News Service will report developments on traffic, tourism and gasoline availability via a network of 160 radio stations from 3 to 11 p.m. July 3 and 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. July 4. The holiday officially runs from 6 p.m. Tuesday to midnight Wednesday.

Convalescent center seeks remodeling OK

Apple Tree Lane Convalescent Center, located at 39000 Chase Road, Romulus, has asked the state to approve constructing a wing and remodeling the existing facility.

Although the licensed bed count of 43 would remain the same, the distribution of beds would provide more semi-private rooms. At project completion there would be 2 four-bed wards, 1 three-bed ward, 14 semi-private rooms, and 4 private rooms.

Six of the semi-private rooms would be in the new wing; and three semi-private rooms and one private room would be located in the old north center wing, which would be gutted and remodeled.

The kitchen would be enlarged, and therapy and equipment storage rooms would be added. New curtains, bedspreads and furniture would be purchased for the entire center.

The project would cost an estimated $90,000 and would be completed in December.

In keeping with state and federal regulations, requiring state approval and board action of local health systems agencies prior to construction and capital expenditure, Apple Tree Lane Convalescent Center has applied for a Certificate of Need. The application is on file with the Michigan Department of Public Health, Division of Health Facility Planning and Construction.

CB equipped vans will provide pick-up service. The Metro Detroit Council of American Youth Hostels, the organizer of the Renaissance Ride, is part of a national, non-profit, outdoor recreational organization open to people of all ages. American Youth Hostels operates more than 200 hostels providing inexpensive overnight accommodations in the United States.

Youth hostel council hosts Detroit bike tour

Peddle forth and meet thousands of enthusiastic cyclists of all ages from all parts of Detroit and Windsor on July 4, starting between 9 a.m. and 12 noon when the Detroit Council of American Youth Hostels hosts a unique 15-mile bike tour of downtown Detroit.

Rain or shine, bicyclists will be meeting and leaving their cars at the Municipal Parking Structure at Bagley and Second and embarking on a trip that will include such places as the Ren-Cen, Hart Plaza, Greek Town and the new Attic Theatre, Eastern Market, the Medical Center and right through the Wayne State University campus. Ride at your own pace or join a group guided by AYH's experienced cyclists.

Sam Henry, the ride organizer, says, "The route has been developed and ridden by many AYH cyclists. The route is planned in two loops so you can ride 7 or 15 miles with rest stops and refreshments available along the way."

All registered riders will receive bright-colored vests, maps and tour information. Advance registration is preferred by writing American Youth Hostels, Rm. 3, 3024 Coolidge, Berkley 48072. The fee is $2 for adults, $1 for youth 17 and under, and a maximum of $4 for a family.

Ride sharing grant gets legislative panel's OK

The first step toward making a comprehensive ride sharing program operational in Michigan was taken last week when a House-Senate appropriations panel approved a $190,300 grant to fund it.

The money will be used by the Department of Transportation to implement legislation, sponsored by State Rep. Robert Law (R-36th District) and approved last year. The ride sharing program is designed to coordinate vanpooling efforts throughout the state among companies that wish to establish them and encourage their employees to use them.

It is part of a total $500,000 grant recommended earlier this year by Gov. Milliken for the ride sharing program.

"The federal government has recommended a number of actions to reduce gasoline consumption — including the closing of gas stations on weekends which would be damaging to Michigan's tourist industry," Law said. "A state-wide ride sharing program that will involve a concerted effort to promote carpools, vanpools and public transportation to get to and from work will certainly have a dramatic impact on gasoline conservation."

Ride sharing is a more palatable alternative."

Last year, Law introduced legislation creating a ride sharing division within the Department of Transportation. The Governor recently recommended that the State Legislature appropriate $500,000 to implement it.

"Michigan's monthly gasoline allocation equals about 90 percent of our need," Law said. "This is resulting in a drawdown on reserve supplies which could very well require specific actions to limit consumption."

"We've seen California and, more recently, New York go on an odd-even purchase system. And it's been estimated that we could save 14 million gallons of gas each month, if we closed our stations on weekends. But I don't think this is a good solution because it would cost 4,300 jobs in the hotel industry alone and would severely restrict manufacturing productivity because of the difficulty in getting to work on weekends.

"But if we could statistically increase the number of people ride back and forth to work in the same car from 1.2 to 1.5 people, we could save nearly 24 million gallons of fuel each month."

Law said the state's top 50 employers will be asked to meet with the Governor for an explanation of the energy situation. They will be urged to establish ride sharing programs and will be notified of technical workshops and seminars scheduled throughout the state.

Department of Transportation representatives will make personal visits to the largest organizations and regional planning agencies and chambers of commerce will be encouraged to establish carpool programs for smaller employers.

The success of the program, Law explained, will be measured by work trip vehicle occupancy increases; the number of organizations with carpool programs; number of employees in organizations with carpool programs; the number of organizations with vanpools in operation; and the estimated gasoline savings from these programs.

"A 50-mph speed limit is estimated to save some 15 million gallons of gas per month," Law said. "This is a lot less than a ride sharing program would save and would entail substantial costs for signs and enforcement. There would also be significantly higher economic costs due to travel time increases, so I am not convinced that it is an appropriate step to take right now."

Law said the second year of the ride sharing program will be funded with $309,700.

Thunderstorms cause blackouts

Two strong thunderstorms, spawned by a strong low pressure cell moving through the Midwest, knocked down lines and caused outages in several portions of Detroit Edison's Wayne Division June 20.

According to Peter Georges, the hardest hit area was the City of Westland, where 895 Edison customers were without power for about two hours. According to Georges, lightning in the area of V-noy and Avondale caused the blackout at 2:25 p.m. An additional 1,800 lost their electricity for about 19 minutes, when Edison crews cut power to the entire circuit to effect repairs. Lights were back on to all customers in that area by 4:30 p.m.

In Van Buren Township, 30

customers were without electricity for about four hours due to lightning damage in the area of Haggerty and McBride. The blackout lasted from 3:20 p.m. to 7:25 p.m.

In Canton Township lightning also was the cause of a power loss to 75 customers at about 7:25 p.m. Work crews were able to complete repairs in the Lilley-Proctor Road area by 9:20 p.m., Georges said.

And Inkster 30 customers had a lightless afternoon when lightning knocked out power in the Irene-Carlyle area. The blackout was from 2:27 to 5:15 p.m.

In all about 5,300 customers were without power during the two storms, Georges said, with most outages of short duration.

Keys to quick communication

E. Remington & Sons, Iliion, N.Y., became the first company to manufacture a practical typewriter under a contract dated March 1, 1873. The machine, which would revolutionize the business world, had two rows of black walnut keys with letters painted on them in white. All letters were in capitals, with numerals two through nine, a comma and a period. Six months after the contract was signed, the first machine went on the market. A visit to the Communications Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich., includes a look at a 1902 Remington Arabic typewriter and a 1908 Remington No. 9, the first visible writing typewriter.

PACE attracts 5 teens

Five Romulus teens recently were involved in a state-wide computerized career and Educational counseling program sponsored by the McDonald's Corp.

Attending PACE's (Programmed Assistance in Career Exploration) mock national political convention, held in Lansing June 16, were Linda Piper, Jennifer Milton, Jan Redden, Deb Hawn and Barry Sell.

More than 2,000 McDonald's crew members, parents and guidance counselors from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Kalamazoo, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, and Midland participated in the "Big Event".

The McDonald's PACE program is designed to help McDonald's employees and their immediate family explore interests, careers, and educational and training opportunities by providing relevant, personalized and up-to-date career information.

The program contains six "packets": Exploring Careers; Career Descriptions, Military Job Descriptions, Exploring Colleges; Exploring vocational and Technical Schools; and Exploring Financial Aid. Participating employees pay $2 per packet — fill out an inventory analysis and send it to a designated computer center, and within two weeks receive a printout tailored to the individual's needs. For example, an employee may receive information describing the nature of the job, the skills required, general pay scales, and employment prospects over the next several years.

According to PACE Program Director Patricia Novick, "McDonald's is one of the largest employers of teen-agers in the world, and this program is part of its corporate responsibility effort. PACE focuses on a whole range of career and opportunities that most of us don't think about."

In Michigan, the PACE program carries the support of Michigan Personnel and Guidance Association.

4-Her goes on tour

Pam Michael of New Boston recently participated in the annual Michigan Milk Producers Association 4-H milk marketing tour June 18-19.

The 42nd annual tour, sponsored by MMPA in cooperation with the Michigan State University extension service, is designed to give 4-H members more familiarity with milk marketing procedures and the duties and operations of a dairy farmer cooperative.

The 4-H members toured the MMPA Detroit office and visited Detroit Pure Milk Company.

In a problem-solving session, the 4-H members divided into groups to discuss and solve situations like those confronting the board of directors of a dairy cooperative.

MMPA is a milk marketing cooperative owned and controlled by some 5,400 dairy farmers throughout the state.

Editorial opinions

'Uncle' is first to get his due

For most of us, June is the first month of the year when our paychecks really belong to us.

Until June, every penny we have earned has gone to pay ever increasing taxes.

While on the national level, new and bolder attacks on federal abuse and misuse of taxpayer's funds are occurring, locally, little is being done.

On the contrary, the state legislature has still been unable to implement provisions of the voter approved Tax Limitation measure of last November.

While the House of Representatives passed in April a bill for implementing one provision of the Headlee Proposal, their effort was a watered down version considerably at odds with the real intent of the measure as approved by voters.

The Senate, following suit, approved their own only slightly better version, and also seems to have forgotten the reason why three tax reform measures made it to last November's ballot at all.

It is becoming increasingly more apparent that our lawmakers are more interested in satisfying special interest groups than they are in following the direction of the people.

Further, while 30 states nationally have approved a call for a federal constitutional convention that would write into law a requirement to balance the federal budget, Michigan is one of the few states that has not debated the question.

It is more than just a little difficult to accept the reluctance of our elected officials to provide voters of the state and nation with an opportunity to directly affect public policy.

Their refusal, generally, seems to indicate that they are not at all convinced that the citizen of this country is able to wisely decide such important issues.

Perhaps, a look at last November's ballot proposals would convince them that Michigan's voters, at least, are very selective in the changes they propose.

Last November, three issues on the ballot directly promised to affect taxes and taxation.

Two were soundly defeated. One narrowly passed.

While many would be quick to claim responsibility for the outcome of the balloting, it was the people who made the decision.

But still Michigan's lawmakers are unwilling to listen.

Well, maybe that is the way it must work.

Last November, voters approved a very mild form of tax reform, and even then, Michigan legislators have not yet implemented it, and most probably never will implement the real intent of that proposal.

In the meantime, at least two other groups are now in the process of drafting language for much stiffer tax reform proposals, to be presented to voters in 1980.

It seems that when real tax reform arrives on the Michigan scene, our elected officials will once again only be watching from the wings while the citizens again take matters into their own hands.

Banning political signs gets our support

Three cheers for the banning of political signs in Romulus.

Two weeks ago, in a resolution submitted to City Council by the Romulus Beautification Committee, the opportunity for a sign free political campaign was presented.

The resolution, passed unanimously by the Beautification Committee, would end the scenic corruption which occurs each election year when candidates attach their signs to anything that doesn't move out of the way fast enough.

Telephone poles, trees, fences, abandoned buildings, or anything unable to object, is usually the recipient of the signs which do little to the esthetic value of Romulus neighborhoods.

But even worse, is the absolute rejection which any proposal to candidates for the removal of such signs following an election, seems to always elicit.

While it is true that politicians adopted the current sign law to help politicians, the Romulus proposal to ban the signs should not be dismissed as just wishful thinking.

On the contrary. Even though similar plans in neighboring communities have met with defeat by those same politicians who stand to benefit from the signs, a showing by residents to the effect that a candidate's right to signs, ends where the resident's right to clean neighborhoods begins, could result in the end of those seemingly ever present signs.

We applaud the proposal authored by the Beautification Committee and would hope they pursue the concept into the community.

There seems little chance that the residents of Romulus would not support such an idea.

From your lawmakers

Lawmakers eye computers

By WILLIAM KEITH
State Representative
33rd District

The Legislature is in the process of attempting to correct two computer-related problems.

Both the House and Senate have approved a bill to legalize computerized ticket outlets in Michigan.

The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill which would give us more effective law to deal with the growing crime of computer fraud.

The computer ticket sellers would enable consumers to buy tickets for sporting events, the theater and other entertainments at convenient locations. The ticket selling machines could be located in department stores, shopping malls and other outlets, making it unnecessary for the customer to travel to a box office or mail in an order.

Instead, he or she could buy the tickets through a computer, specifying ticket price and desired seat locations, and the computer would print out the tickets.

Known most commonly as "ticketrons," this type of computerized ticket seller is already in use in a number of states, including New York, Massachusetts and Colorado, and in Ontario.

However, they cannot be used in Michigan because of the state's "scalping" law, which prohibits selling tickets at more than their face value.

That law is aimed at the practice of persons buying highly prized tickets to an event at the accepted price at a legitimate ticket outlet, then selling them at a profit. But it also prevents owners of computerized ticket selling machines from charging a fee for their service, eliminating the profit motive.

The bill approved by the House and Senate would make exceptions to the scalping law to allow the computerized ticket outlets. The bill would allow tickets to be sold at a higher price at a location other than the box office if there is written permission from the owner, operator or manager of the place where the event is to occur.

Tickets sold at a higher price would have to have printed on them the charge above the box office price and bear a statement that the ticket could be purchased at the box office without the added cost.

Use of the computerized ticket sellers would offer advantages to consumers and promoters alike. They would offer tickets to a variety of events at locations convenient to customers. They would also make it easier for people to become aware of and buy tickets to events outside their immediate geographic areas and, in some cases, would make available a wider selection of seats where now usually only certain blocks of seats are available at outlets away from the box office.

The other bill would make it unlawful to gain access to a computer or computer system or network with the intent to defraud or obtain money, property or services for personal use. It would also make it unlawful for a person to intentionally, directly or indirectly, to gain access to, alter, damage or destroy a computer, computer system or network or computer "software" (a set of computer programs or procedures).

The legislation sets misdemeanor penalties for computer crimes which net $100 or less and felony penalties for those involving more than $100.

Since computer fraud is a relatively new type of "white collar" crime, we do not presently have law which can effectively deal with it.

The growth of computers in the past decade has been tremendous. Unfortunately, with the computers have come ingenious persons who can program a computer to defraud a business or organization and divert funds and information to themselves.

This type of crime is becoming more and more common, costing the American public an estimated $100 million a year. Yet, it is estimated that less than one out of every five computer crimes is even reported. The conviction rate is even lower and often the punishment is lenient.

Presently, if the crime is discovered, there are no applicable laws under which it can be effectively prosecuted. Therefore, the crime may go unpunished or the guilty party prosecuted for a lesser crime.

Editor's log

A legend in his own time

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

Few of us in a life time ever have the opportunity to either know or meet a person who has become a legend in his own time, but we at Associated Newspapers have just been reminded we are in such a situation.

Lothar Konietzko!

Chief Photographer, humanitarian, human being and nemesis, was honored last week by his many friends and colleagues for 25 years of community service.

But the fact that Lothar was honored remains insignificant when compared to what Lothar has accomplished during his long association with these newspapers.

As a young man, who came to the country fleeing oppression as a displaced person in his own country, Lothar landed in Wayne, home of his sponsor, in 1954.

Unable to speak English, and with training in forestry, Lothar soon discovered that in this country, most jobs in that field were with governmental agencies and required American citizenship.

With those doors closed to him, the lanky former German fighter pilot found himself adrift in his adopted country.

Job interview after interview passed with always the same conclusion. No English, no job.

Until Wes Willett.

Wes, co-owner of the Associated Newspapers, a cigar-chomping legend in his own right, quietly listened while Lothar's sponsor, Jim Cashman, extolled the young German's abilities with a camera.

Armed with several German color postcards, Cashman worked to convince Willett that Lothar was indeed God's gift to the photographic industry.

With a twist of his cigar and a characteristic grunt, the deal was consummated, and Lothar had found a job. But one problem remained.

He didn't know anything about photography.

With the passage of time it has become known that Willett, always a tough man to put something over on, knew full well of Lothar's lack of training for the job. But the tough newspaper man could not have admitted he had a soft spot for the young man.

For Lothar, the job soon became a mixed blessing.

While he was now responsible for the newspaper's photographic department, he soon found that his lack of knowledge posed more than just minor inconvenience.

Writing a friend in Germany who was involved in the business seemed like a good idea until that friend wrote back that photography could not be taught by mail and that he should give up the job.

Undaunted, Lothar stroked off a letter to Eastman Kodak. In the letter, penned in his native language, Lothar asked for the information on processing their materials.

By return mail came the volumes which would solve his problems, but all the manuals were written in English.

Realizing that he would never learn his new profession without first learning English, he set about, with the help of a German-English dictionary, the arduous task of translating the stack of books and instructions on the photographic material.

For weeks, carrying the characteristic German 'Brieftasche', Lothar made the trip back and forth from the newspaper photo lab. When asked what he carried in that case, Lothar replied, "lunch", but in reality, the case contained the ruined remnants of his early experiments with photography.

In Lothar's own words, "my photography improved, as well as my English," but the twinkle in the eye of old Wes Willett remained, as much a response to Lothar's improvement as it was to the fact that Lothar believed he was putting one over on the crusty old boss.

The passing years have vindicated the judgment of Wes Willett in hiring the young German, just off the boat. Lothar, by sheer determination, managed to not only become a capable photographer but a photographer boasting almost every conceivable award for photographic excellence.

While the crusty old boss is gone, the faith he had in that young man is still reaping benefits for the newspapers he helped to found.

Last week, Lothar was honored. And in so honoring him, we all shared a success story that will be remembered long after Lothar finally hangs up his old Leica.

Hardly a person in Western Wayne County has avoided being charmed by this man who raised havoc in his own newsroom.

But while Lothar is sometimes hard to love, sometimes hard to work with, and always hard to please, for those of us who work with him know full well, he would be very hard to live without.

Lothar Konietzko.

... Lothar! What do you have in that case? No! Never mind."

Ask the Governor

Energy and Seniors

By WILLIAM MILLIKEN
Governor of Michigan

QUESTION: I have a cottage in the Upper Peninsula and my family and I enjoy taking a long weekend up there at various times during the summer. Due to the gasoline shortage, I am a little concerned about making the trip. Is there anyway I can find out about the availability of gasoline between my home and the cottage?

GOVERNOR: On May 18, the Travel Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce started providing information about gasoline supplies on its regular toll-free information line. Michigan residents can call the line at 1-800-292-2520. Out-of-state visitors can get information about gasoline supplies and weekend activities by calling 1-800-248-5700.

The gasoline information will be supplied to the Travel Bureau by a number of sources, including the Automobile Club of Michigan, which conducts a weekly survey of 400 service stations across the state.

The new service was added by the Tourist Bureau to make sure motorists have the information they need to make travel plans. We do not have gasoline shortages in Michigan now, but if spot shortages do develop we will be ready—through the information line—to let people know about them.

I can only emphasize that gasoline supplies are tight, but with careful monitoring and reasonable conservation measures—such as car pooling and obeying the 55 mile per hour speed limit—I believe Michigan can avoid becoming another California.

QUESTION: I am a senior citizen and I heard recently that you participated in Senior Power Day. What do you see as the major problem facing senior citizens and what will you be doing about it?

After talking with the senior citizens attending Senior Power Day in Lansing—and there were 6,000 seniors from all over the state at the conference—there was no doubt in my mind that the single largest problem facing seniors, this state and the nation is inflation. No group, has a greater stake in controlling inflation than the senior citizens. Most seniors live on fixed incomes and inflation is weekly shrinking their purchasing power.

You may be aware that I have called an anti-inflation conference to be held June 19 in Lansing. President Carter's chief inflation fighter, Alfred Kahn, will be here to participate in the conference.

Among the topics we will be exploring will be containment of health care costs, a major concern of senior citizens. We will look at ways governmental budgets can be geared to fight inflation, how government regulations may contribute to inflation by creating artificial price levels, and how wage and price guidelines affect individuals.

I have invited five senior citizens, who presented a platform of concerns to me during Senior Power Day, to participate in this conference. It is extremely important that the interests of those who are most seriously affected by inflation, our senior citizens, be fully represented in any discussion of inflation.

Area Girl Scouts take part in EMU athletic event

Girl Scouts in Belleville were among the 2,000 girls participating in the recently held Girl Scout Games at Eastern Michigan University's stadium.

Events that day included softball throws, running and standing jumps, a tumble dash for the Brownies and a mile race for the Seniors.

Noon-time festivities featured George Goodman, mayor of the host city, Ypsilanti, who greeted the girls and volunteers. Following the parade of girls in troop formation, Huron Valley Girl Scout Council President, Pat Levos, read a message from Mrs. William Milliken encouraging the girls to develop their bodies as well as their minds so that they will be able to meet the challenges in the world today.

Barb Boelter of Belleville, chairman for this first-time event, said "Because things went so nicely and the girls had such fun, we are hoping to plan a similar kind of event for next year."

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, a United Way agency, serves nearly 12,000 girls in Washtenaw and surrounding counties.

You can make it at leisure, put it in the freezer and you are ready for any occasion that calls for one special dessert.

For that rich chocolate flavor, start with Baker's German sweet chocolate, melted to a smooth consistency. Add it to the cheese and egg white mixtures and fold it into the crunchy Walnut Crumb Crust. Garnish with frozen whipped topping and walnuts, if desired.

potpourri

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Talk about history repeating itself! (We WERE, weren't we?) After an interim of some 15 years, our girls finally got to repay a very lovely teen-ager (now a lovely young woman and mother) for her kindness way back in 1964.

An invitation to dinner at the home of a newly-made friend (our five, seven and 11-year-olds included) immediately drew the usual inquiry, "Do they have any kids?" When I replied a daughter in high school, they decided they sure weren't going to have any fun. And you can imagine what that OTHER girl was probably thinking at the prospect of entertaining three KIDS!

But, despite the gap in ages, we were all amazed and pleased when a thoughtful, bright, pleasant Miss Teen came up with a perfect solution for the day.

While we four adults were exchanging small talk and getting acquainted, she was entertaining our trio with her huge collection of china and ceramic horses. She not only filled the daughters-three in on their "history" but, when it came time to leave, gifted them with the entire "stable."

I'll never forget the awe and fascination on their faces as their mini-hostess treated them as one of her peers. And for weeks after they talked of what a super person Kathy was.

The horses remained on the scene throughout their own school years but the display eventually grew smaller and smaller as young cousins and friends benefitted from impromptu gifts. And with moves to space-limited college dorms, the herd was eventually tossed and tucked away for another time.

Its reappearance when readying things for that garage sale (which I spoke of so often and is now long past) brought back those very hours of 1964. When many of the girls' nicest things (brand new note paper, delicate necklaces, a musical jewelry box, etc.) failed to find buyers, we tried to think of youngsters who might like them. And when one of the china stallions (now missing a hoof) surfaced, we thought of Kathy — "young Kathy" — who now has daughters of her own. How about them?

So we boxed everything up, including some silly stuff — chunky, garish rings and some loud deco art pins (just for fun) — and took them to the grandmother of Kathy's children, that fairly-new-acquaintance of some 15 years ago who's turned out to be a dear and longtime friend.

She agreed with my assumption that her granddaughters just might like the "little surprise" and that's when I learned that Kathy's girls were now 11 and seven — the same age as two of ours those many years ago. Third member in HER trio, alas, is a 3-year-old boy and I didn't even have an old truck or ball to include with the loot.

But I have a feeling that Tommy soon discovered the jewelry chest was "different" and that just a couple twists of the winder would get it tinkling out "Lara's Theme". Suppose?

What would we do without junk drawers? Every family DOES have one, right? Well, we have TWO! Kitchen and bedroom. And why is it that even when tidied, the darn thing STILL looks like a what it is — a junk drawer?

The j.d. in the chest of drawers was moved intact so it was with wonder that I viewed such treasures as a 1960 deer hunting license, a navy bow tie with "Belleville Kiwanis" inscribed on it (a holdover from the group's visit to Belleville, Ontario), three yellow golf balls with unprintable matter on them, a reel of film from someone's 1951 wedding day, white suspenders from that same date (which our son-in-law used 24 years later. See, BG, I told you they'd come in handy), a couple egg-shaped L'eggs cartons (for little Easter gifts — someday?) and some other crazy surprises too dumb to mention.

Take a peek into your own j.d. if you're running short on kicks these crazy, lazy days of summer. Bet yours (the kitchen cache) doesn't have some old Christmas tree bulbs or fuses, three tubes of crazy glue or a clothespin with recycled string wound round it? But I WILL bet you have some dried-out felt markers, old ballpoints and lots and lots of matchbooks. Afterall, how else would you remember where you were the night before without that evidence.

Those j.d.'s (messy as they always are, no matter how you neaten them) can be challenging. And, if on a rainy summer day, you find your kids at a loss for entertainment, have THEM re-arrange the old treasure trove. Be generous — tell 'em you'll give 'em a penny for every different category they find. Sound cheap? Want to bet it'll cost you?

ALERT: If any of you clipped out the recent recipe we ran on Chocolate Date Nut Cake, get it out and add one cup of granulated sugar to the list of ingredients. One of our readers bought all the necessities for this cake only to find sugar missing and called it to our attention. Don't forget the addition or Mrs. Emma Drohmer's delicious cake won't be too great a hit.

Okay, all you smart grandmothers out there — you were right! Shirley, Gladys, Kay, Joy, Aunt Helen, Marge — I concede! There IS something thrilling and special about a grandchild and, of course, I warned you all that MINE would be the greatest!

One of the many special gifts waiting for our wee one to enjoy in a few years is the "A to Z Picture Book" by Gyo Fujikawa. For anyone contemplating presents for a youngster, this should be a must.

Filled with 76 pages of delightful drawings, the alphabet is illustrated with such off-beat nouns as cuckoo clock, crybaby, chocolate cake, cat and copycat (a kitten mimicking the actions of its mother) and such alliterative phrases as "Clara is crawling" and "Charlie is cold" — all skillfully pictured in either pen and ink, pencil or watercolor.

Not the run-of-the-mill ABC book by any means, it shows edelweiss for one of the E items: geranium for part of the G page; junco and joshua tree under J and how about kooka burra (HA! Gotcha? It's a bird) and koala for K.

Doesn't it sound super? Each of us really enjoyed sitting down and carefully noting the many items pictured on each page or pages of the alphabet. A must for any child and most reasonably priced for a hardcover.

Received a nice note from ex-Bellevillian Betty Fulton who now calls Florida "home". She says, "Really enjoy the hometown paper but also am enjoying sunny Florida. Bought a home in New Port Richey and will be moving shortly."

Found this recipe in the Ft. Lauderdale news and maybe you can use it in your "potpourri". Here's Betty's bit of whimsy from the Sunshine State.

Elephant Stew

- 1 elephant
- 2 rabbits (optional)
- 1 brown gravy

Cut up elephant in bite size pieces. This will take about two weeks. Add enough brown gravy to cover. Cook over an open fire for about four weeks at 465 degrees. This will serve 3,800 people. If more are expected two rabbits may be added but do this only in an emergency as some people do not like to find a hare in their soup. "I haven't tried this as yet," Betty added.

Betty, who formerly resided on Liberty Street, was a dear and filled in for Katherine Spring, writing her "In the community" column whenever she was out of town. We miss you, Betty.

TEE TIME (again) —

LEO: I gave up fishing for golf and I like golf much better.
GERRY: Really, how come?
LEO: When you lie about golf, you don't have to show anything.

THE BOTTOM LINE: Heredity is what a man believes in until his son begins to behave like a delinquent.

Robson-Sageman exchange vows at Dearborn Inn

The garden at the Dearborn Inn was the setting June 16 for the ceremony which united Shelley Lynn Sageman and Mark Douglas Robson in holy matrimony.

The Rev. John E. Jeffrey presided at the six o'clock rite after the bride was presented in marriage by her father.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Sageman of Bad Axe, Shelley chose for her wedding day an ivory gown of peau d'ange and Chantilly blend accented with Brussels lace. Her bridal ensemble also included a lace and pearl trimmed hat which secured a waltz-length veil.

The bride's two attendants donned old-fashioned multi-colored floral print frocks trimmed with Belgian lace. Kathy Sageman of Belleville was her sister's maid of honor and Sharon Watchowski of Wyoming, Mich. the only bridesmaid.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darryl G. Robson of Belleville, asked Stephen Byrom of Belleville to be best man. Gordon Sullens of Belleville served as groomsmen.

Following the nuptials, a dinner and reception were held in the Alexandria Ballroom of the Dearborn Inn.

On returning from their honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains, the newlyweds will reside in Belleville. The new Mrs. Robson is employed by Newburgh Heights Dental Clinic and her husband by Standard Realty Corporation.

Rita Sietz on Dean's List

Rita Marie Sietz, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sietz of 19380 Sumpter Rd., Belleville, was among those named to the Dean's List at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

She received a grade point average of 3.79 and was recognized for outstanding achievement in the College of Health and Human Services.

Miss Sietz, recipient of a Rotary Club scholarship for 1978-79, is working toward a degree in occupational therapy. This summer she is working as a counselor to the physically handicapped of all ages at Indian Trails Camp in Grand Rapids.

'Outstanding Teacher Award' presented to Kernie Gilliam

A Belleville man, Kernie Gilliam, who teaches government, civics and seventh grade social studies at Deerfield High School, was honored for his outstanding work in the field of education at the 74th annual meeting of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs.

June arrival wearing pink at Ledbetter's

From here on in, June 13 will be a special day at the home of Robert and Yvonne Ledbetter of 28324 Diesing, Madison Heights. Birthday parties will be in order for their little daughter, Christine Sharrel, who picked that date for her arrival at New Grace Hospital in Detroit.

Weighing 7 lbs., - 14 1/2 ozs. and measuring 19 1/2 inches, the baby arrived at 9:05 p.m.

The Ledbetter's first child, Christine is the granddaughter of Mrs. Opal Partin of Romulus and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ledbetter Sr. of Warren and the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Etta Grant of Romulus, Mrs. Ida Ledbetter of Livonia and Mrs. Thelma Biddle of Ferndale.

A 1971 alumnus of Belleville High School, Gilliam and his wife, Jackie, reside at 45817 Judd Road. Selected by his colleagues on the Deerfield staff, Gilliam received the "Outstanding Teacher Award" from Mrs. Marian Yeutter, chairman of the project.

Gilliam was cited for his contribution to the teaching profession on the basis of professional attitude (positive thinking and encouragement to other teachers); rapport with students, community members and other professionals; service to the profession, and efforts for self-improvement. His name has been placed on the traveling trophy which will be kept at Deerfield High School for the next year.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University with a major in political science, Gilliam has been on the Deerfield faculty staff for two years.

Forty representatives of 21 member clubs were present for the all-day program held at West Adrian United Church of Christ. The Walworth Woman's Club and Onsted Woman's Club were hostesses.

A Deerfield, Mich. teacher and alumnus of Belleville High School, Kernie Gilliam, was feted for his outstanding work in education during a recent meeting of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs. Annual display lights up Detroit skyline

When fireworks light up the Detroit River and the skylines of the cities which flank it on the night of June 29, they will herald the beginning of the 21st annual Detroit-Windsor International Freedom Festival.

The festival is a joint celebration of the freedom and friendship of two great nations. Its 6-day schedule centers around Canada's July 1 Dominion Day and the American Independence Day, July 4, and is expected to draw more than one million people.

During its first 20 years, the festival has grown into the largest and most successful continuous event of its kind in North America. Its schedule is jammed with athletic events, parades, exhibits, demonstrations, shows, regattas, tournaments, races, picnics, concerts and religious services. The 1978 festival was a tremendous success and many of its highlights will be back this year. The returning events include the spectacular Freedom Festival Fireworks and the perennially popular Detroit River Freedom Festival Tugboat Race, which pits the fastest of the Canadian and American floating workhorses against each other and the choppy river.

As in the past years, the Detroit River will play a central role in the festival. A pair of thrilling hydroplane races again will be a highlight when the Unlimited Trophy and Grand Prix races are held on July 1. Other favorite boating events returning this year include a rowing regatta and the Voyageur Canoe Race.

Another popular location for this year's events will be the new Philip A. Hart Plaza. Following opening ceremonies in the Plaza on June 29 for both the Freedom Festival and the International Ethnic Festival, Hart Plaza will be the center of six days of Ethnic Festival activities. A highlight of other Hart Plaza events will be continuing performances of the International Folk Theatre throughout the festival week. Jazz and band concerts also will be held in the plaza.

Athletic competitions have been a traditional part of the festival, and will play an important part in this year's schedule. Highlights will include the Belle Isle Amateur Sports

Day and the Ninth Annual Freedom Festival 10-Mile Run. Windsor also will host several events which have proved popular in past years, including the Gread Bed Race down Ouelette Avenue and band competitions. This annual event was conceived by former Michigan Secretary of State James Hare and his aide, Paul Lutzeier. Originally, planned as a state-wide celebration in Michigan and province-wide Ontario, the festival was launched in 1959 on a more modest scale as a Detroit-Windsor event. Although it has remained under the auspices of those cities, its scale has become anything but modest. The first festival, though it did not include as many events as those of later years, was nevertheless a memorable event. The celebration was highlighted by the presence of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, the only time members of the royal family have attended the festival. Also present were the royal yacht Britannia and a flotilla of British, Canadian and American warships. These magnificent vessels attracted large crowds to the waterfronts of both cities, making the Detroit River the focus of the festival. The inaugural festival also introduced the annual fireworks display above the Detroit River which has become a festival tradition.

Nice people. Taking care of nice people.
All over the world.

Cadet Bethann Farrell will represent U.S. in Great Britain

Cadet Capt. Bethann Farrell was recently chosen from a membership of 21,000 for the International Air Cadet Exchange (IACE) — one of 200 cadets throughout the country who will represent the United States when the IACE meets for 19 days next month in Great Britain. All her expenses will be paid by the U.S. Air Force.

Cadet Farrell joined Civil Air Patrol (CAP) in April of 1975 and has since participated in flying, military training, travel, first aid, communications and model rocketry.

A member of the Michigan Drill Team for four years, she attended classes in communications, first aid and radiological monitoring and participated in model rocketry competition.

She also spent one week in Alpena for summer encampment and has traveled to Ohio, Indiana, Florida and Alabama as part of the program.

She has progressed from a cadet basic to a cadet captain and in CAP, the higher the rank, the more privileges and activities offered.

Cadet Farrell said, "When I joined CAP in 1975, I was 14 years old. I never dreamed I would make the rank over cadet sergeant let alone cadet captain and also cadet squadron commander. I recommend Civil Air Patrol to anyone over the age of 13 or seventh grade who loves to travel and meet people and is interested in going to join the U.S. Air Force."

Civil Air Patrol is not like other teen organizations that once you graduate, that is the end. In CAP you have the option to stay a cadet until you are 21 or become a senior member at 18.

If you are interested in any of the aforementioned activities then you are invited to attend the weekly meetings of the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron at Romulus North Junior High School on Wick Road. Summer sessions are held from 7 to 9:30 p.m. each Wednesday. During the school year the group meets at the same time but at South Junior High School in Romulus.

Watch out for the water!

Now that the hot, sticky and uncomfortable days of summer are upon us, the refreshingly cool water looks extremely inviting. But watch out for the water, cautions Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, reminding us that drownings have become the third leading cause of accidental deaths in recent years — with July the peak month — accounting for one-fifth of all drownings.

And the situation is getting worse, for total drownings are on the rise, from about 6,500 in 1960 to approximately 7,300 in 1978.

Young people should be particularly on guard, since more than 60 percent of all drowning victims are under age 25 — nearly one-third are teen-agers — and 85 percent are males.

The days you would most like to relax and unwind are the most dangerous, reports Metropolitan Life. Forty percent of all drownings occur on Saturdays and Sundays.

Mornings seem to be safe enough, but you have to watch out for the later part of the day since about two-thirds of the deaths occur in the afternoon and early evening.

Drownings occur at home, at work, in boating accidents, etc.; however, as most water accidents take place while swimming, Metropolitan Life offers some suggestions on how to keep safe in the water:

THINGS TO DO

—Learn how to swim and float, and know and observe your swimming limitations.

—Before any member of the family swims, dives or jumps into the water, the area should be checked for rocks and other obstructions. The site should also be inspected for holes and debris, as well as to determine the shallow and deep sections.

—If caught in a current, swim with it and at the same time angle toward shore.

—Heed all warnings. If the area is unguarded, stay close to shore.

—Be sure an adult swims with a child at all times.

—If you have difficulty in the water, keep calm and think of a plan of action.

THINGS NOT TO DO

—Don't go into the water too soon after eating. Wait 1½ to 2 hours.

—Don't swim alone.
—Don't swim when you are tired, overheated or chilled.
—Don't swim during darkness.
—Don't stay in the water during a thunderstorm.
—Don't play around in deep water.

—Don't depend on a tube or water wings to keep you afloat.

—Don't attempt a swimming rescue unless you are well trained; use a towel, plank, shirt, or anything else to extend your reach, says Metropolitan Life, or there could be two drowning victims instead of one.

—Finally, don't "mix" water and alcohol, or you may end up with more water than you bargained for.

In case a drowning emergency does occur, you should know how to perform mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Metropolitan Life offers a free, wallet-size card.

"How To Restore The Breath of Life," that explains the correct method. For your card, write to Health and Welfare Division, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, One Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y., 10016.

BBQ: Nation's favorite

Are you a barbecue lover — you and millions of other Americans?

Each year, Americans spend an estimated $145 million on charcoal briquets, $245 million on grills, $55 million on lighters and $18 million on various utensils and accessories. All that cookout equipment is used to prepare some $1.8 billion worth of food, with beef, by far, the most popular item for barbecuing, says the Michigan Beef Industry Commission.

"One reason steak on the grill is so popular is that there is a cut to suit every budget, appetite and occasion," pointed out Retha M. Hankey of the Michigan Beef Industry Commission. King of steaks is the Porterhouse — thick, tender, juicy and, oh, so delicious. Impressive serving-size steaks include T-bone, rib, rib eye and top loin. You will find sirloin steaks sized just right for family meals. In addition, somewhat less tender steaks, such as blade, round and flank, can be enjoyed on the grill when first marinated, then broiled to rare or medium.

Why not pick up some beef steaks the next time you're at the store and plan a backyard barbecue for your family. They'll be glad you did.

Baby your skin

This summer clothes are lighter, looser and lovelier. And they show off a lot more skin. So your new summer wardrobe isn't complete unless your skin looks its best.

A little baby oil can really help. Smooth some on your legs to make them look soft and silky.

Those rough spots on your knees and elbows will respond to a little baby oil treatment.

And a little on your arms and shoulders gives you a naturally healthy glow.

Board vs. Thompson

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

The Inkster Board of Education vs. Coach George Thompson Jr. — the case is an interesting one.

To put it mildly, the board refused to renew Thompson's contract as head basketball coach at Inkster High School; to put it bluntly — the board fired Thompson.

On the surface, it appears that the seven-member board wants a coaching change. It was probably displeased with Thompson's 8-10 won-lost showing in the Suburban Athletic Conference and his 11-13 over-all record for the past year. The board has the prerogative of extending or refusing to extend coaching contracts when they come up for renewal.

However, below the surface, one would need the investigative resources of a Melvin M. Belli or a F.L. Bailey to dig out all of the facts that cloud this unexpected incident.

What is known is that the superintendent's office invited Coach Thompson, who is one of the most successful coaches in the area, to submit his resignation. To that request Thompson replied: "I told them I would not hand in my resignation because I had no reason to."

The board then fired Thompson.

This is a man who, over a span of 13 years, has helped more than 100 young athletes receive college scholarships, who has produced such excellent talent as all-staters Eartha Faust, Andre Richardson, Richard Walker, Duane Fox, Alvin Dukes, Rodney Scales and William Healy.

This is a man whose teams have been among the best in the state — that is not an exaggeration. He has won seven Mid-Wayne Conference titles and one Suburban Athletic Conference championship. He has come under fire, however, because his teams have had problems beating River Rouge and Highland Park in the SAC — but what coach doesn't have problems beating the Parkers and Lofton Green's Panthers at Rouge?

In his 13 years as head coach, the 40-year-old Thompson has only had three losing seasons — a record few coaches could compete with or against.

"I'm not going to fight this," Thompson says. "I do feel, however, the method in which they let me go is wrong."

And so do a lot of other people who have rallied to Thompson's defense.

"It wasn't George's coaching that was his downfall, but his refusal to compromise his beliefs and bend to the whims of a few board members that led to his ouster."

Unfortunately it is something that no one, even Bailey or Belli can prove.

And I personally agree with Thompson's supporters who argue that the coach was fired because he stopped an ILLEGAL ACT. He took justifiable actions — actions, I'm proud to say, that all of the coaches I know in this area would have taken if confronted with a similar situation.

What happened is that just before the Christmas vacation and after one of their games, Thompson caught several members of his team drinking on the bus trip home. First, as we all know, it is illegal to have an open alcoholic beverage in a moving motor vehicle; second, the players who were involved in the 'beer-fest' were underaged according to state law; third, if Thompson didn't act — and he did — he would be contributing to the delinquency of a minor and fourth, these players didn't respect their coach, their teams, their school or their community — the only special treatment they deserved, they got — they were kicked off the team.

Thompson also realized that without these kids in the line-up his team wouldn't stand a chance in the SAC or the state. The Vikings' 6-1 record skidded to 11-13 for the year.

Reportedly, members of the board of education approached Thompson to rescind his disciplinary action and bring back the ousted members. He refused.

His contract wasn't renewed.

Could it be that that is why the board carried out their execution last week?

The defense rests.

Franklin's Gerry Cullin is 'Coach of the Year'

GERRY CULLIN

Rookie coaches usually don't go around winning championships in their first year.

It takes time, energy, and a lot of patience to develop a championship team.

But, in the case of Gerry Cullin who recently finished his inaugural year as head coach at Livonia Franklin High School, the 1979 baseball season has been "a year of unexpected pleasant surprises."

Among those surprises are capturing the Northwest Suburban Conference championship, finishing the year with an enviable 19-7 over-all record and having one their players, Chris Baker, drafted in the second round by the Detroit Tigers.

There is also another accolade that Gerry Cullin earned. It is also a pleasant surprise — Cullin is being honored as The Associated Newspapers' "Coach of the Year" in baseball.

"It is an honor," says Cullin. "But it is an honor shared by my coaching staff and each and every member of our team."

"I was very fortunate to have — to inherit — a team with a lot of talent. I have said this in the past and I will repeat — these kids are the greatest," Cullin added.

Cullin served as former coach Ron Hellier's assistant for more than a decade before he moved to the head coaching job last spring. Hellier resigned to accept a job as Belleville High's athletic director.

If there was a letdown in the 1979 season it was the loss suffered by Franklin to Detroit Catholic Central in the finals of the Class A District playoffs at Redford Union.

Franklin shouldn't feel too badly about losing that game — after all — Detroit Catholic Central went on to win the state championship.

All-Area drafts 13 preps

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

The Associated Newspapers' sports staff held its own version of the draft recently and singled out 13 high school players for its coveted All-Area baseball team.

The line-up includes: Chris Baker, Jim Wilson, Herb McManaway, Gary DeYonker and Jeff Sergison — all from Livonia Franklin's 1979 Northwest Suburban Conference championship team.

The team also boasts Paul Arnett and Jim Mercurio from Belleville, Rick Searcy of Cherry Hill, Tim Ruark and Rob Suida from Westland John Glenn, Wayne Memorial's Skip Walker, and Romulus's John Bozelak and Russ Ayers.

BAKER has the option of playing pro or collegiate baseball. The 6'4", 185-pound senior, was drafted in the first round of the recent major league draft by the Detroit Tigers. He also has a flock of college scouts waiting in the wings eager to get his signature on a national letter of intent.

"Chris is an outstanding hitter and outfielder and an exceptional team player," said Franklin Coach Gerry Cullin. "He is one reason why we had a successful season this year."

A co-captain, the 18-year-old outfielder batted .377 on the year. He appeared at the plate 69 times, collected 26 hits, scored 24 runs and batted in 24 from the bases. He also connected for three doubles, six triples and two homers.

Named to the all-conference team for the second year in a row, he was also a first team All-State Class A selection.

McMANAWAY is a name that has been familiar to area fans for many years. He was voted as one of the top Babe Ruth players in the country a few years ago and he has continued to shine in high school. Definitely one of the top choices by pros and colleges a year from now, Herb batted a phenomenal .494 this season, his junior year. The 5'11", 175-pound outfielder and first baseman led the Patriots in hitting, in RBIs, doubles and triples. He was also named to just about all of the honorary teams including all-league, all-metro, and all-state. Few players can boast being an all-state pick as a junior. He had 87 at bats, compiled 43 hits, scored 26 times, and belted 10 triples and two homers.

"This is a kind of player a coach can build around," Cullin said. "Obviously I'm very pleased that we will have him returning a year from now."

WILSON is a 6'1" senior who shared the co-captain responsibilities on the team. An exceptional defensive catcher, he led Franklin to an outstanding 19-7 won-lost record, which included Northwest Suburban League and Cossens' Memorial championships. His offensive stats include 58 at bats, 18 hits, 14 runs and 13 RBIs. He also laced four doubles, one roundtripper and retained his all-conference status as a catcher. The pros didn't overlook Wilson in the draft — San

Golf deadline is set

The "mad rush" to enter the 1979 City Championship Golf Tournament is on.

Golfers apparently aren't waiting to enter the tournament which will be held the weekend of July 28-29 at Dun Roin Golf Course in Plymouth.

"Because of this early rush to register," said Bill Hawley, tournament manager, "we will have to set a deadline. As in the past the course will allow us up to 125 golfers, then the tee times will be given over to the regular members.

"We're therefore urging everyone not to wait until the last minute," Hawley said.

Hawley said the deadline to submit entry blanks is Friday, July 20. All entries must be received at the parks and recreation department offices before that date.

The annual tournament is open to male amateur golfers from the cities of Westland, Wayne, Inkster, Garden City and Canton Township who will be competing for the right to represent their city at the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association's state tournament. The top five golfers will make up the teams going to the state.

Tiger tankers sign-up

If you want to 'learn-to-swim' or improve your swimming skills, the Belleville Tiger Swim Club is the place to go this summer.

The swim club is offering a Monday-through-Thursday, half-hour lessons beginning July 9 and ending July 23 at the Belleville high School pool.

"Because our programs have been so successful in the past, we can offer these lessons at a cut-rate of $12 per child for eight lessons," Pat Gary, a spokesperson for the group said. "We have had tremendous response from the community in the past."

Francisco's Giants have a contract waiting for him.

DeYONKER is an "all-around ball player" who did an exceptional job for the Patriots at shortstop. He's a 5'9", 150-pound senior who was the team's leadoff man. His defensive skills helped in turning 11 double plays, while offensively his bat contributed 29 hits, 10 RBIs, a pair of doubles and a triple. He also walked 24 times and stole 10 bases. He finished with a hefty .341 average. Gary was also named to the all-league, all-metro teams.

SERGISON, a 5'11", 164-pound hurler had an earned run average of 0.74 and was the ace of the Franklin pitching staff. He won four of five outings, losing only to Detroit Catholic Central which wound up as the Class A state champion. He pitched 38 innings and during that span he gave up 21 hits, whiffed 41 and issued 20 walks. Not only was the senior a top-notch hurler, he was also deadly at the plate where he carved out a .315 batting average. Jeff wasn't overlooked by the metropolitan newspapers either. He was named first string all-metro after earning similar accolades in the league.

SEARCY is Cherry Hill's lone representative on this year's All-Area. His credentials include a .418 batting average and a .957 fielding percentage. He appeared at the plate 67 times and hit successfully 28 times. He scored 16 runs and batted in another 15. The sterling outfielder also had 12 doubles, a triple and two homers.

"Ken is an exceptional athlete who led us in hitting all year," said Cherry Hill Coach Ken Mientkiewicz. "You couldn't find a finer all-around player than this young man."

A senior, Searcy was named as one of the unanimous all-conference choices as an outfielder.

ARNETT is the perfect infielder. A senior who completed his second year of varsity competition on a team that struggled, Paul was one of the bright spots in a rather dismal Tiger campaign. He batted .302 on the year and swatted 16 hits in 53 appearances at the plate. He also had eight RBIs, five stolen bases and made only four errors in 21 ball games.

"Paul could play for just about any team and stand out," said Coach Dan Fisher. "He's coachable, talented and has exceptional knowledge about baseball."

MERCURIO, also a senior who is 5'8", 180-pounds, caught and played first base for the Tigers. The spirited player drove in eight runs and collected 19 hits on the year en route to a .297 season. Jim has lettered twice in the sport and is an excellent college prospect.

RUARK'S name also is a familiar one to all-area teams. An outstanding grinder as well, Tim is a 4.0 student and has accepted a scholarship to Brown University. Glenn's "Athlete of the Year," Ruark batted .380 on the season and was a unanimous all-conference choice at shortstop. The senior knocked in 19 runs, collected seven doubles, four triples and one homer. He also stole six times and in his 71 trips to the plate, he had 27 hits and scored 24 times.

"Tim is a very mature young man," said Coach Norm Hoenes. "He is a fierce competitor and has an abundance of natural athletic talent to go along with that."

SUIDA, considered the best defensive player on the Westland-based high school's team, used his 6'0", 170-pound frame to humble pitchers. The Glenn senior batted .397 on the year which earned him an all-conference outfielder's position. In his 58 times at bat, Rob pounded out a pair of homers, one triple, six doubles and had six RBIs.

"I have coached a lot of good defensive ball players in my many years here," Hoenes said, "but, in my opinion, Suida was the best."

BOZELAK will be swinging his bat next season for Ferris State College where he will be attending classes on a baseball scholarship. In his third year as a member of Dennis Stoh's team at Romulus, the 5'10", 170-pound outfielder collected 27 RBIs and two homers.

"John is considered one of the finest college prospects in the area," said Coach Stoh. "He has hit .400 on the nose for the past three years and that's almost incredible."

AYERS played third base for Stoh's Eagles and also pitched. He chalked up a 7-1 won-lost record and had an earned run average of 2.20. The 5'11" 170-pound senior also was awarded a baseball scholarship and will be playing for Adrian next season. A righthander, Russ finished his prep career with three varsity baseball letters. He was also the team's MVP for the past two years. WALKER kept Wayne Memorial in many of its games thanks to his potent bat and deft fielding. The team's MVP player, Skip was picked by the Great Lakes 8 Conference coaches as their unanimous choice as an infielder. The 6'2", 185-pound senior first baseman was also singled out as the conference's co-MVP.

"We really had our problems this year," said Coach Jim Chronowski, "but Walker kept us going with his bat. If we had a few more like him, this could have been an outstanding season for us."

Beyer power

One of the key reasons for Northwood Institute's tennis success this season was the performance by Todd Beyer (second row, second from left) who helped his team win the NAIA District 23 championship and contributed four of five points at

Todd Beyer makes Northwood contender

Todd Beyer, a freshman from Wayne, was a member of the NAIA District 23 champion Northwood Institute tennis team and recently competed in the national tournament in Kansas City.

The number two player on Northwood's 1979 team, Beyer played outstanding tennis toward the end of the season, finishing second in the NAIA District 23 singles tournament and then helping Northwood to four of its five team points in the national tournament.

In doubles competition, Beyer teamed with NI's number one player and district singles champion Stew Francke to win the District 23 doubles title.

In the national tourney, Beyer received a first-round bye, then proceeded to knock off Eugene Maybury of Thomas College in Maine 6-2, 5-7, and 6-4. Maybury, the District 5 singles champ, was one of only two undefeated players entering the tourney and had won 37 consecutive matches prior to his loss at the hands of Beyer.

In the third round, Beyer lost 6-0, 6-1 to the number-two seeded player in the tournament.

"I can't say enough about Todd's play this year, especially the development of his doubles game," commented NI head coach Zane Colestock. "He started out slow, but made the adjustment from high school to college tennis and really came on like gangbusters at the districts and nationals."

"He's very serious about this game," Colestock continued, "and he's willing to devote a lot of time to improving it."

Todd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Beyer of 35642 Winslow in Wayne.

Brock holds narrow Canton golf lead

Scoring 18 points last week, Bud Brock continues to lead in the Canton Golf League, but the frontrunner still has a pesky Jim Wilk to shake from title path.

Wilk is seated in second, a mere two points behind Brock, after the third complete week of competition.

Wilk shot his best round of the season, turning in a 42 to pick up 19 points. Ken Roman turned in a 43 for nine holes at Fellow's Creek, while Jim Thomas, Bud Brock, and Gordon Lapierre also checked in with 45s.

In the Canton's senior citizens' league, Bill Begg maintained a perfect point total of 25 to stay atop of a 15-golfer league.

John Morgan, a newcomer this year to the league, posted a second best round of the day 43, and Louis Seromik had a 49.

The senior citizens' league standings is as follows: Bill Begg (25), Gary Aleman (22), Louie Seromik (21), Judy Bond (17), Edmund Buzek (14), Ralph Deetz (12), Perry Hohnbaum (11), John Morgan (9), Alfonsino Bonscorsi (9), Hilda Hayden (9), Alda Kraemer (8), Millie Skoog (8), Virginia Wurm (8), Edwin Fuller (7) and Mildred Maynard (4).

After six weeks of competition, Bruce Watt and Bill Lindley have established themselves as the team to beat in doubles. Watt and Lindley swept five points from Gary Regberg and Dan Riggs to hold on to their 4½ point lead over Mike Ryan and Bob White.

Ryan and White kept in the title chase thanks to a 5-point sweep over Merph Eminger and Charlie Sheets. Ryan shot his best round of the season as he carded a 41 at Fellow's Creek. Tony Valenti and White each had 42s for their efforts while Jerry Yuchas turned in a 43.

Here is the standings after six weeks: Watt-Lindley (29), Ryan-White (24½), Koers-Koers (21½), Caning-Young (18), Blumenshine-Flowers (19), Eminger-Sheets (18), Slade and Moraca (17½), Natoli and Mogelnicki (17½), Oberhelman-Mattingly (15½), Hoffman-Yuchas (14½), Demars-Martin (13), Ponte-Seewald (12½), Logsdon & Logsdon (12), Monro-Lawrence (12), Kraft-Valenti (12), Glover-Shirk (10), Lyndrup-Hammond (10), Ackley-Stuebben (9), Rehberg-Riggs (8½) and Johnson-McGee (5½).

An ace

John Roberts of 12597 Lake Point Pass, Belleville, is eligible to win a free trip to Scotland and $1,000 as a result of scoring a hole-in-one at the Bob 'O' Link. This ace qualified him for the 19th annual Rusty Nail Hole-In-One.

Class 'A' title race is heating up

Village Bar has untarnished Class B record

The Broncos, who had previously won only five of their 11 starts, jolted league-leading Burghuff Bar, 18-17, last week as the fireworks went off early in the Wayne Class A Men's Softball League.

With the upset of the week, and Burghuff's easy defeat of Van Born, Burghuff finds itself with a one-game cushion over the place, Hofbrau.

Off and the Broncos battled it down to the wire, and a fifth Broncos' run finally gave them the edge. Burghuff erupted in the first inning and like a team that would give away a victory. But the Broncos got four of those runs back in their first, then exploded for seven big ones in the second to grab a 11-7 lead. Burghuff recovered from their shellshock to score nine runs in the third and take a 16-11 advantage. The Broncos refused to die - they scored six times in their third to move ahead 17-16. Neither team scored in the fourth, but as time was running out, the Burghuffmen broke the deadlock with a tally in the top of the fifth.

Deadlocked at 17-all, the Broncos scored their crucial run in the bottom of that inning to earn their sixth victory in 13 starts. Who sez 13th is a bad omen?

Jim Canfield homered and singled and drove in three runs for the losers. Teammate John Copland also blasted a four-bagger and singled, accounting for four RBIs while Jim Gibson and Dave Knapp had four and three hits respectively.

Jim Jaskolski belted a triple and a couple of singles which produced three RBIs, while Ron Hayes sliced a single and double, also good for three Burghuff runs.

Paul's Sporting Goods moved into a two-way tie for third with the Broncos as they put down an improving Unistrut team 14-10. Each team collected 14 hits with Charlie Trusowski drilling a pair of triples and a two singles for the losers. Mate Jeff Hogan clubbed a pair of singles.

Bob Fullerton, the winning pitcher, helped his cause with three RBIs on a couple of singles and a homer off of loser Ron Smith who also gave up three hits to Mark May and a double and triple to Terry Kadlec.

In the only other Class A game reported in, Hof Brau pounded Van Born hurler, Jeff Carter, for a total of 23 hits to claim its ninth triumph in 13 starts. Ray Fox was rough on Carter as he hammered out two homers, and a triple which paved the way for four runs batted in. Bob Vojtkofsky collected a couple of singles and a double for three RBIs and Jerry Holbrook had a homer and single for two RBIs for the winners.

Ron Hubble led Van Born's 16-hit assault on winner Dennis Cowell who delivered up three singles to Hubble and two safeties to Dan Sowa.

Meanwhile, Village Bar, remained undefeated as the Class B softball leader dumped Daring 18-7 for its 11th consecutive win on the season. Daring gave the league leader a scare as it rallied for four runs in the bottom of the first to move ahead 4-1, but a 11-run Village fifth stopped the upset-minded challenger.

Village's hitting attack was sparked by Jim Cardona, Jerry Jaskolsky and Rick Brewis who each had three hits off of losing pitcher Jeff Jirovsky, while John Petri latched on to three of Darin's eight hits off of a pair of Village hurlers - Dick brewis and brother, Bill.

Pittman's stayed deeply entrenched in second place thanks to a 11-6 win over fifth place Rod Ruddy's. A 6-run first inning proved to be the difference in this one as Rick Pittman smashed a homer and single while Gary Mason collected a couple of singles and a triple off of losing pitcher Bill Coleman.

Winning pitcher Ted Rize gave up 10 hits, two each to Bill Roan and Jack Dankert.

In other Class B games, the fifth-place Rangers had to struggle past the last place Massey line-up and it struck for a last inning run to edge their rivals 5-4. After the Rangers scored two runs in the second, Massey's tied it up with single tallies in the third and fourth. The Rangers broke the knot with two in the fifth, only to have Massey's come back to tie it again in the sixth.

Jon Farquhar whirled a three-hitter to chalk up the victory. His opponent, Terry Borden, was socked for 12 hits, including homers by Jack Dalton and Rick Stillwagon.

The Explorers picked up their third victory in 11 starts at the expense of B & B's, 9-5, as winning pitcher Ken Eck gave up 10 hits. Larry Wood laced a homer and mate Benne Donelson checked in with a pair of singles for the losers.

Keith Owen's homer and two singles off of loser Tom Tompkins produced five runs batted in.

Over in Class C where the title race is shaping up into a two-team affair between Tri-City Carpet and the Pirates, Tri-City's maintained a slim one-game edge (9-1) as it crushed the Wayne Jaycees, 26-3. Tom Rourke held the Jaycees to eight-hits, two of those going to Frank Scanen. Tom Abbe, the loser, clubbed a homer.

Tri-City's Joe Budrequi turned in with a pair of singles, double and triple and missed hitting for the cycle. He had four RBIs. Also with four hits was Tim Dietz who homered and socked in 4 RBIs. McGlade had a double and triple.

The Pirates remained close on Tri-City's title carpet with a 9-2 triumph over ATI whose seven hits off of winner Bill Wilson included doubles by Jerry Carr, Bob Rykalsky and Paul Leyinski.

Paul Young, the loser, gave up two hits to Randy Brett, Mike Sharp, Dave Ross and Jim Gilbert. Bret and Sharp also slammed triples.

It's also too close to call in the over 35 Conference where No Names has a half-game edge over Jack's Sporting Goods.

No Names made it five-out-of-six thanks to a come-from-behind 10-8 victory over Chums & Jake's who erupted for four runs in the sixth to make it look close.

Chums collected 14 hits off of winner Gordon Dickey who served up two each to Chappie Reynolds, Tom Ashburn, Tom Davidson, Frank Gross and Dave Wells.

Reynolds, charged with the loss, delivered two hits to Mike Woneski who homered. He also gave up two hits apiece to Dan Hall, Dickey, Moon Mullins and a triple to Pops Popara.

Jack's Sports, meanwhile, overpowered Ernie's Towing 22-1 for its fifth win in seven outings. Backed by a 27-hit barrage, Jack's scored in every inning, putting eight runs on the board in the sixth. Buddy Welcher, Dick Brewis, Art Collyer, Don Domke and Phil Luke each got three hits off of loser Bud Owens.

Leo Simonds, the winner, scattered five hits - a single each to Bill Bartolls, Jerry Warden, Jim Davis and Tom Strock.

Ernie's also fell to fifth place Taste Freez which claimed a lopsided 21-5 verdict over the winless, last place team.

Les Warden was hit hard by the winners who carved out 26 hits, including a hefty five hits by Randy Butcher who had a pair of doubles. Ken Roberts drilled two round-trippers and a single that accounted for six RBIs, while Bill Farmer and John Gorney each had three hits.

Farmer, the winner, was tagged for a triple by Bob Dare and two singles apiece by Warden and Bud Owens.

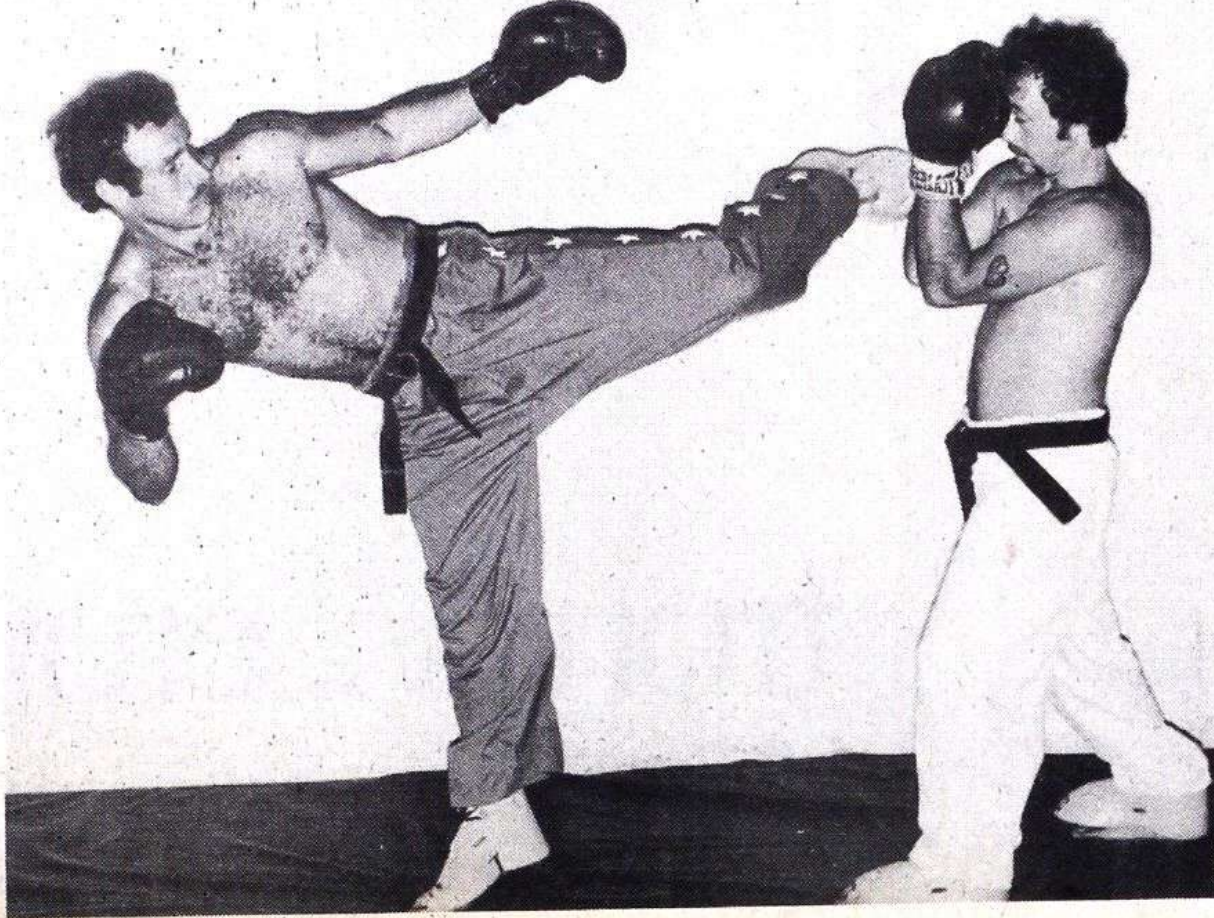

Extra Point and Northside were involved in a slugfest as each team recorded 18 hits. When the cloud cleared, Northside had one more run and won 13-12.

Extra Point started fast as it put six runs on the scoreboard in the first inning, but its pitching and defense didn't hang on. Northside retaliated, striking for five runs in their first, then pounding out five more in the second to go out in front 12-6. But Northside came up with five runs in their fifth and one in the sixth to make it a close game.

Roberts got the victory and survived homers by Conrad Madeleno and Bill Creekmore.

Madeleno, the loser, was tagged for a roundtripper by Dennis Stankoff who had two hits. Teammate Joe Kovacic checked in with four hits, including a couple of two-base hits and four RBIs. John Rothermie and Harold Fielder split four hits between them for the winners.

Jack's, behind a 21-hit assault on loser Larry Stockwell, managed to stop Chum's 9-5. Art Collier and Bill Muncie each had two hits, including home runs, while Phil Luke, Leo Simonds and Dick Brewis laced three hits apiece.

Pardon my foot

Roger Hurd's outstretched foot is flying toward Michael Painter's face in a practice pose between pro-and-student who are preparing for their area debut of the Can-Am Kickboxing Team Championships. The championships will be staged 7 p.m., Saturday, July 7 at the Multi-Purpose Area, Wildwood and Hunter, in Westland. Hurd, considered one of the finest kickboxers in the country, takes on Canadian Ken Clark in the featured bout, a 7-round super rematch. Hurd, a former Wayne Memorial grid star who lost to his 175-pound opponent recently in Canada, will be out to avenge that defeat. Top amateur kickboxers of both countries will be on hand - and foot - to show off their skills, in what is considered one of the "most deadly sports of its kind."

Van Buren softball league tied up in first place knot

Van Buren is fit to be tied up, in first place softball knots.

Surprises last week produced a logjam at the top of the standings as Bi-County Construction, Rheem Manufacturing Company and Big & Wags elbowed their way into first place.

Rheem handed Bigs & Wags its first setback of the season, 10-8, as Mark Fromer gave up 11 hits, including a homer and double to slugger Daps Dapsy to get credit for the victory. Fromer helped his cause with a two-run single. He also served up a pair of singles and a two-run base hit to Tom Bonds and David Rooster respectively.

Rheem's Pat Anguilm, batting a hefty .778, latched on to three singles and scored three times. Mate Bryan Losen also had three hits, including a double, while Terry Caves and Paul Lauth each had two.

Rheem's also stopped Bi-County Construction by the identical 10-8 score as Fromer went the distance, gave up 15 hits to post the victory. Rick Gielinski led the losers as he sliced three singles. Rick Akers and Bob Frost also got two hits apiece.

Anguilm continued his torrid hitting pace as he laced a double and picked up three singles. Caves slammed three hits, including a double. Lauth and Jim Anguilm split four singles between them.

Draw-Tite held off a surging

Horste to win a close 16-13 ball game last week. Horste blew a 4-0 lead as Draw Tite came back with six runs in the fourth and scored five decisive runs in the sixth to clinch it.

Jim Easley, the winning pitcher, aided his cause with a double and two RBIs.

John Reed blasted a homer for one of his three hits which accounted for three RBIs and Charlie Reinhardt also collected three hits including a double while Charlie Gohl connected for two hits and had two runs batted in.

Draw Tite remains close on the heels of the leaders. The victory raised its record to 4-2.

Bigs and Wags' Pop O'Harris held lection three hits including a double while Charlie Gohl connected for two hits and had two runs batted in.

Draw Tite remains close on the heels of the leaders. The victory raised its record to 4-2.

Bigs and Wags' Pop O'Harris held Moose to four scoreless innings before Moose scored six times in the fifth. It wasn't enough, however, as Bigs claimed a 15-10 victory.

Buster Kos had a perfect 4-for-4 day, collecting four singles and Daps Daps drilled a double and single while Ziggy Zeestraten clubbed a homer for his lone hit of the day.

Bob Udovich was charged with the loss. Harris was the winner.

In the only other game, West Lake Gage crushed Zantop 19-1 as Carol Brown fired a two-hitter. Those runs were produced by Jan McLain's single. The only other hit was a single by Sandy Liechty.

Denise Bonkowski knocked in two runs on a double and pair of singles and Sandy McParlin singled and doubled for the winners.

IN LOVING MEMORY of our beloved son and brother, WILLIAM (BILLY) WILES. Who left us suddenly 5 years ago, June 30, 1974. What I would give to see your smile and sit and talk with you awhile. The blow was sudden. The shock severe. To part with you a love so dear. I often sit and think of you. The things you used to say and do. Deep in my heart your memory is kept. I love you so dearly to ever forget. I wish your absence was only a dream. Silent thoughts and tears unseen. Love Forever, Your Mom, Brother, Aunts, Uncles and Friends.
